Rep. Hays Speaks During Program

Memorial Unveiled Here

East Liverpool paused Monday to unveil this new memorial dedicated to the men and women of the community who have served their nation in its wars.

Unveiling of the granite monument erected by public donations in a move sponsored by the Veterans City Council and an address by Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th District congressman, highlighted the Memorial Day program at City Hall following a parade through the business district.

MEMBERS OF the East Liverpool chapter of Gold Star Mothers are shown unveiling the memorial, after which Mrs. Annie Carr, president, placed a wreath in front, joining others placed by veterans' groups.

"Freedom is not something that can be handed down or inherited," Hays declared. "Each generation must desire freedom, preserve it, fight for it and, if necessary, die for it."

Americans now are fighting in Viet Nam so that they won't be fighting in Hawaii, the Philippines, Australia or the West Coast of the United States, the congressman said. Americans have been involved in Viet Nam for 10 years, but the South Vietnamese have been fighting Communist takeover since 1941.

"I REGRET every single casualty, but we don't stop to think that in 10 years we have lost fewer people in Viet Nam than will be killed on the highways this weekend."

The nation continues to face "an awesome responsibility" as the strongest nation in the world. "The least we can do for those who gave everything it is possible to give is to see

Angry Negroes Picket In Selma

King Announces Massive Voter Registration Drive

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Negroes angered by new civil rights arrests promised continued picketing of white merchants today and began a drive to integrate Selma schools.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. announced a massive Southwide voter registration campaign designed to double the number of Negro voters within weeks after the expected passage of a new federal voting law.

King made an unscheduled visit to Selma Monday night to add his voice to the chorus of protests over the arrests of 32 Negro pickets carrying boycott signs in downtown Selma. The arrests Monday brought to 132 the number taken into custody since Saturday.

A Selma Negro leader, the Rev. L. L. Anderson, told cheering followers at a mass meeting Monday night, shortly before King spoke, that "commencing tomorrow, we are going to fill the streets up."

He said Negro demonstrators would "sleep there, eat there, and have church there." He said the day-and-night vigil this time would take place in the streets in West Selma, "where the (white) business people live."

King made no mention of specific plans for renewed demonstrations, but he told the throng jammed into Browns Chapel AME church that Selma's public safety director, Wilson Baker, "might as well know that we want to picket. And if we want to picket, we're going to picket if it takes filling up the jail."

City police under Baker's command made the arrests Saturday and again Monday. Adult Negroes among the pickets were charged with violating Alabama's anti-boycott law; juveniles were released.

Baker, critical of the mass arrests by Sheriff James G. Clark's deputies earlier in the civil rights campaign, has refrained from taking demonstrators into custody in the absence of what he called a clear-cut violation of the law.

King, meanwhile, urged Negro parents to attend a meeting called for tonight to organize a school integration campaign.

The Selma School Board has agreed to desegregate the first, second, third and fourth grades next September, but the drive is aimed at all 12 grades in grammar and high school.

At Selma, and a few hours earlier in a commencement address at Tuskegee Institute, 90 miles to the east, King challenged white moderates in Alabama to cry out against racial injustice wherever it exists.

He told the 350 Tuskegee graduates, "Alabama suffers not so much for the violence of bad peole as for the silence of good people."

Death Of Boy Ruled Accidental Hanging

Hancock County authorities today ruled the death of 14-year-old Michael Francis Murray of Weirton was caused by accidental hanging.

The boy died Monday when he fell from a tree near his home and became entangled in a rope. He and several other youngsters were building a tree house at the time, authorities said.

Officer Kevan Resigns Post At Wellsville

Patrolman Denton L. Kevan resigned from the Wellsville Police Department today to accept other employment.

A 14-year veteran of the force, Kevan said he is leaving for what he feels is an "advancement in life."

The resignation was submitted to Police Chief John Hephner, who expressed regrets over the loss of the officer.

Kevan, who has been on vacation, has accepted a job as project engineer on an apartment project at Buffalo, N. Y. He operated a local contracting business and did considerable work in Wellsville schools.

Hephner said "This will be a loss to the department as you don't get men like Kevan every day. He has been a very good police officer and one who could be depended upon. On several

Water Normal Again After Chester Work

Normal water service has been restored in Chester following temporary disruption in some neighborhoods due to sediment - clogged lines resulting from the weekend cleaning of a 10-inch main from the city reservoir to 9th St., officials announced today.

Old pipes needing repairs caused some delays in cleaning operations, officials reported. The sediment remaining is being flushed out by opening fireplugs.

Repairs to a broken main at 2nd St. and Virginia Ave., not related to the cleaning operations, have been completed.

Traffic Toll Hits Record For Holiday

466 Lives Snuffed Out On Three-Day Memorial Weekend

By The Associated Press

Traffic deaths for a three-day Memorial Day holiday have pushed to a record high for the second year in a row and the National Safety Council said the blame rests "largely on incompetent and irresponsible driving."

"More and more must be done to improve the nation's driving skills," said Howard Pyle, council president.

Pyle said reports on highway traffic accidents throughout the weekend showed that mistakes in driving judgment posed the major problem.

He said the record bears out the findings in a recent nationwide drivers test in which a very high percentage of the participants failed to qualify as safe drivers.

Several multiple-death accidents helped swell the national total to 466 — for the period from 6 p.m. local time Friday to Monday midnight.

The old record of 431 traffic fatalities was set in 1964.

Three spectacular auto smashups in the area of Needles, Lone Pine and San Jose, Calif., snuffed out 16 lives.

A head-on collision on a desert highway near Needles, Saturday killed six and left an 11-year-old girl the only survivor.

An almost identical smashup in the High Sierra foothills Sunday near Lone Pine took five lives, leaving an 8-year-old girl as survivor.

Three men and two women died Saturday in a collision on a freeway north of San Jose.

For comparative purposes, The Associated Press made a survey of highway fatalities for the three-day non-holiday weekend period from 6 p.m. Friday, May 14, to midnight Monday, May 17. The death toll during the period was 387.

The lowest postwar traffic death toll for any three-day observance of Memorial Day was 204 in 1948. The record high for any three-day holiday period was 609 during the 1955 Christmas season.

During this year's Memorial Day holiday period, 35 persons lost their lives in boating accidents and 87 drowned.

Bigger Voice For Allies In Decisions

U.S. Urges NATO Study On Atomic Policy, Aims

PARIS (AP) — The United States has proposed that a committee of four or five NATO members be set up to study nuclear policy and procedures for the Atlantic Alliance to give America's allies a bigger voice in nuclear decisions.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara advanced the proposal to a session of the defense ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. It apparently was a new U.S. effort to meet demands of France and other NATO partners for a voice in the life-and-death decisions that might face the West in a future crisis.

McNamara said the committee should meet as promptly and frequently as necessary to study:

— How to expand Allied participation in planning the use of both strategic and tactical nuclear forces.

— Methods for quick consultation among NATO members on any decision to use nuclear forces. This could include "hot lines" between NATO capitals.

McNamara said the United States wants to join other NATO nations in working out measures to provide greater "nuclear participation" for members so desiring.

He said this would be in addition to anything the alliance might do about the controversial proposals for a multilateral nuclear force (MLF) or an Atlantic nuclear force (ANF). Both projects have encountered stiff opposition from French President Charles de Gaulle.

McNamara did not specify whether the proposed committee would control the nuclear trigger or if it would operate by unanimity or majority decision.

Under present U.S. law, control of U.S. nuclear weapons rests with the U.S. president. This gives the United States a veto over any Allied use of nuclear arms except for the relatively small British and French stockpiles.

McNamara declared that the Soviet attitude has changed a great deal since the Cuban missile crisis of 1962 and there is far less danger of a massive Soviet attack.

He suggested that NATO should be more concerned about friction over Berlin or troubles in Eastern Europe that might spread to the NATO area.

Viet Cong's Casualties Put At 600

U.S. Planes Again Hit North Targets, With One Downed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two U.S. Army advisers were reported killed today and a third wounded in a Viet Cong ambush near Pleiku, 220 miles northeast of Saigon.

The toll of American dead in combat in Viet Nam rose to 395 since December 1961. Two other Americans were killed over the weekend in the heavy fighting in Quang Ngai in which an estimated 600 Viet Cong and more than 500 South Vietnamese troops were casualties.

At least six Americans were wounded in scattered ground and air actions during the past two days, U.S. military spokesmen said.

U.S. Navy planes hit again at targets in North Viet Nam and one F8 Crusader was shot down by antiaircraft fire. The pilot ejected over the sea, a spokesman said, and was picked up in good condition about 10 minutes later by a rescue plane.

The Navy pilots said they dropped two tons of bombs on a railroad yard at Vinh, about 160 miles south of Hanoi, but were unable to assess the damage. They said they caused moderate damage to three boxcars near Quang Phong, about 125 miles south of Hanoi, and bombed Route 15 just north of Vinh, making the road impassable at that point.

American officials said Vietnamese army sources reported the Viet Cong ambushed a convoy en route from Pleiku to relieve a district headquarters under attack at Le Thanh. Five Americans were reported with the convoy.

Air support was sent to the scene and troops were rushed there by helicopter. Late reports indicated government

Space Journey Thursday

Astronauts Face Checkups Today

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Two healthy young men see their doctor today for checkups they probably don't need.

The medical examinations for astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II were necessary to provide data for comparison with that gathered during and after their flight in the Gemini 4 spacecraft.

The countdown begins Wednesday for a Thursday morning launch of the two-man spacecraft on the nation's longest and most spectacular space journey yet.

Christopher C. Kraft, Project Gemini director, planned an all-afternoon session with the astronauts, their doctor, the people who have babied the spacecraft and its Titan 2 booster rocket, weathermen, guidance technicians and range supervisors. It's a mission review meeting to determine that everyone is ready and the countdown can begin.

McDivitt and White will attempt a world first — a rendezvous mission in which they will maneuver their craft close to another orbiting satellite, their worn-out second-stage booster. White, connected to the spacecraft by a 25-foot tether, will step into space while traveling 17,500 miles per hour and move to within 20 feet of the tumbling booster. He will remain out of the spacecraft for 10 to 12 minutes, taking pictures.

The prime objective of their 97-hour, 50-minute flight is to provide Dr. Charles A. Berry, the space agency's chief of medical operations, with information on the effects of prolonged exposure of man to the weightless, airless vacuum beyond the atmosphere.

Written in Berry's appointment book for the two Air Force majors today were a three-hour tip-to-toe medical examination, and a session on the tilt table.

Berry wants to measure the effects of prolonged weightlessness on the cardiovascular system — the heart and blood vessels. By comparing the astronauts' blood pressures, blood

2 Seized At Newell Tavern; Television Sets Are Stolen

An attempted robbery was thwarted early Monday morning by alert Hancock County sheriff's deputies making a routine patrol in Newell, while another took place in the same vicinity shortly afterward.

George Richard Mull, 27, of 6tl. St., Newell, and Bill Monroe Jenkins, 23, of Chester St., New Cumberland, were discovered about 2:40 a. m. in the act of breaking into coin machines by two deputies, who had noticed a door open in the rear of the Newell Tavern on 5th St. One deputy remained at the rear door, while the other stationed himself at the front entrance.

The two men were caught trying to escape through the front entrance with a total of $144.50 which they had taken from the coin machines.

Upon resuming their patrol in Newell after taking Mull and Jenkins to the County Jail in New Cumberland, the deputies discovered a broken plate glass window at Newell Central Service, located at 4th and Washington Sts.

Upon investigation, they discovered that five television sets and a lawnmower had been taken from the establishment. A rock had been hurled through the window to gain entrance. The sheriff's office, continuing the investigation, said the robber occurred between 3:45 and 4:30 Monday morning.

The value of the TV sets was estimated at between $1,800 and $2,000.

Mull and Jenkins are scheduled for an "appearance before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland today.

College Student Rescued After 36 Hours In Cave

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — A University of California graduate student has been rescued in critical condition after 36 hours in a 1,170-foot-deep cave high in Utah's Wasatch Mountains.

James Dowling, 24, of Connersville, Ind., dangled on a rope in the freezing cave for more than two hours. Part of his weight rested against a collapsible ladder.

Mountain climbers and spelunkers inched into the cave Monday, wrapped him in a down-filled sleeping bag and tugged him out — foot by foot.

He was taken to St. Marks Hospital, where attendants said his body temperature was more than 20 degrees below normal. He was semiconscious and in shock.

Dowling and two companions, John Wood, 23, and Paul Gerhard, 22, of Bladensburg, Md., began exploring the cave about 9:30 a.m. Sunday.

They told three Utah mountaineers to wait for them at its mouth and bring help if they weren't out in 24 hours.

They clambered through narrow, winding 45-degree passages into the limestone belly of Neff's Canyon, about four miles southeast of Salt Lake City.

Neff's Canyon natural cave is about as deep as the lowest explored part of New Mexico's Carlsbad Caverns. It is 7,000 feet high near Utah's snow-covered Mt. Olympus.

After a tuna fish-fruit cocktail lunch on their way out about 20 hours later, Wood and Gerhard noticed Dowling lagging behind on a vertical ladder.

Gerhard left his companions and climbed out for help. Wood descended the ladder and discovered an entanglement in Dowling's safety rope.

"He (Dowling) seemed to be weakening," Wood said. "He wouldn't answer my questions right away.

"I tried to unjam the rope. But then I heard others coming in. He was in mild shock at the time."

The Utah mountaineers, Donald Sims, Edward Anderson and LaVell Burnham, pulled Wood to the top of the ladder and then tugged Dowling free.

Nine other rescuers, including Dr. Gary Carlson of Salt Lake City, pulled and lifted Dowling

25 Witnesses Slated Before Grand Jurors

LISBON — At least 25 witnesses will be summoned before the recalled April Grand Jury in approximately 11 charges against 10 defendants, Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis said today.

The prosecutor issued the call for the recalled session last week. The panel will convene Thursday for a session that is expected to continue through Friday.

Bettis explained he recalled the Grand Jury because of an unusual accumulation of criminal cases. Several secret matters also will be taken before the panel, he said.

Alcoa Signs Pact With 3; Boosts Prices

NEW YORK (AP) — The Aluminum Co. of America reached agreement with three AFL-CIO unions today on the eve of a threatened industry-wide strike. The agreement set the pattern for the rest of the industry.

Pacts were reached with the United Steelworkers, the United Auto Workers, and the Aluminum Workers International Union.

Alcoa announced immediate price increases and the rest of the industry was expected to follow suit.

The contract deadline was last midnight (EDT).

Although Aluminum Workers International leaders here did not call a strike, at least one plant was struck, and pickets appeared at others.

A high steel union source said early today that the Steelworkers also had reached agreement on the same Alcoa economic package with Reynolds, Kaiser Aluminum and

Angry Negroes Picket In Selma

King Announces Massive Voter Registration Drive

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Negroes angered by new civil rights arrests promised continued picketing of white merchants today and began a drive to integrate Selma schools.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. announced a massive Southwide voter registration campaign designed to double the number of Negro voters within weeks after the expected passage of a new federal voting law.

King made an unscheduled visit to Selma Monday night to add his voice to the chorus of protests over the arrests of 32 Negro pickets carrying boycott signs in downtown Selma. The arrests Monday brought to 132 the number taken into custody since Saturday.

A Selma Negro leader, the Rev. L. L. Anderson, told cheering followers at a mass meeting Monday night, shortly before King spoke, that "commencing tomorrow, we are going to fill the streets up."

He said Negro demonstrators would "sleep there, eat there, and have church there." He said the day-and-night vigil this time would take place in the streets in West Selma, "where the (white) business people live."

King made no mention of specific plans for renewed demonstrations, but he told the throng jammed into Browns Chapel AME church that Selma's public safety director, Wilson Baker, "might as well know that we want to picket. And if we want to picket, we're going to picket if it takes filling up the jail."

City police under Baker's command made the arrests Saturday and again Monday. Adult Negroes among the pickets were charged with violating Alabama's anti-boycott law; juveniles were released.

Baker, critical of the mass arrests by Sheriff James G. Clark's deputies earlier in the civil rights campaign, has refrained from taking demonstrators into custody in the absence of what he called a clear-cut violation of the law.

King, meanwhile, urged Negro parents to attend a meeting called for tonight to organize a school integration campaign.

The Selma School Board has agreed to desegregate the first, second, third and fourth grades next September, but the drive is aimed at all 12 grades in grammar and high school.

At Selma, and a few hours earlier in a commencement address at Tuskegee Institute, 90 miles to the east, King challenged white moderates in Alabama to cry out against racial injustice wherever it exists.

He told the 350 Tuskegee graduates, "Alabama suffers not so much for the violence of bad peole as for the silence of good people."

Water Normal Again After Chester Work

Normal water service has been restored in Chester following temporary disruption in some neighborhoods due to sediment - clogged lines resulting from the weekend cleaning of a 10-inch main from the city reservoir to 9th St., officials announced today.

Old pipes needing repairs caused some delays in cleaning operations, officials reported. The sediment remaining is being flushed out by opening fireplugs.

Repairs to a broken main at 2nd St. and Virginia Ave., not related to the cleaning operations, have been completed.

Alcoa Signs Pact With 3; Boosts Prices

NEW YORK (AP) — The Aluminum Co. of America reached agreement with three AFL-CIO unions today on the eve of a threatened industry-wide strike. The agreement set the pattern for the rest of the industry.

Pacts were reached with the United Steelworkers, the United Auto Workers, and the Aluminum Workers International Union.

Alcoa announced immediate price increases and the rest of the industry was expected to follow suit.

The contract deadline was last midnight (EDT).

Although Aluminum Workers International leaders here did not call a strike, at least one plant was struck, and pickets appeared at others.

A high steel union source said early today that the Steelworkers also had reached agreement on the same Alcoa economic package with Reynolds, Kaiser Aluminum and

College Student Rescued After 36 Hours In Cave

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — A University of California graduate student has been rescued in critical condition after 36 hours in a 1,170-foot-deep cave high in Utah's Wasatch Mountains.

James Dowling, 24, of Connersville, Ind., dangled on a rope in the freezing cave for more than two hours. Part of his weight rested against a collapsible ladder.

Mountain climbers and spelunkers inched into the cave Monday, wrapped him in a down-filled sleeping bag and tugged him out — foot by foot.

He was taken to St. Marks Hospital, where attendants said his body temperature was more than 20 degrees below normal. He was semiconscious and in shock.

Dowling and two companions, John Wood, 23, and Paul Gerhard, 22, of Bladensburg, Md., began exploring the cave about 9:30 a.m. Sunday.

They told three Utah mountaineers to wait for them at its mouth and bring help if they weren't out in 24 hours.

They clambered through narrow, winding 45-degree passages into the limestone belly of Neff's Canyon, about four miles southeast of Salt Lake City.

Neff's Canyon natural cave is about as deep as the lowest explored part of New Mexico's Carlsbad Caverns. It is 7,000 feet high near Utah's snow-covered Mt. Olympus.

After a tuna fish-fruit cocktail lunch on their way out about 20 hours later, Wood and Gerhard noticed Dowling lagging behind on a vertical ladder.

Gerhard left his companions and climbed out for help. Wood descended the ladder and discovered an entanglement in Dowling's safety rope.

"He (Dowling) seemed to be weakening," Wood said. "He wouldn't answer my questions right away.

"I tried to unjam the rope. But then I heard others coming in. He was in mild shock at the time."

The Utah mountaineers, Donald Sims, Edward Anderson and LaVell Burnham, pulled Wood to the top of the ladder and then tugged Dowling free.

Nine other rescuers, including Dr. Gary Carlson of Salt Lake City, pulled and lifted Dowling

Could Make McDevitt-White Flight Easier

Space Veterans Have Tips For 2 'Rookie' Astronauts

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — What can experienced space travelers tell two rookies?

Astronauts Virgil I. Grissom and John W. Young — the first manned Gemini mission crew — believe they can make the four-day flight James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II are to start Thursday a bit easier.

"I plan to sit down with them and talk it over," he said. Grissom is the only man to have flown in space twice.

Young said he had written a 50- to 60-page report on personal observations made while he and Grissom orbited the earth three times during the first manned Gemini flight March 23.

"They are free to take the report any way they want to," said Young, "but to try to help those guys, to minimize any new type experience for them — well, they're going to have to live in that baby four days. It's going to be a tough mission."

Young says he will tell McDivitt and White not to be shocked when the sheet of fire closes around the spacecraft after the first-stage engine shuts down and the second-stage engine starts.

"It was a surprise for me," Young said. "You get this flash of light, what we call fire in the hole. It's instantaneous. It's like all of a sudden you see it, and then you don't. You don't have time to even think about it. Gus knew about it, so it didn't surprise him.

Young said the four-day mission would be the "proof of the pudding as far as the spacecraft is concerned."

"I don't think there's anything the man has to do in the four days that he can't do, but it will be a good systems test," he said. "A really good systems test for extended mission operation for Gemini."

A big surprise, the jolt that comes when the landing-parachute system changes from a one-point suspension to two-points, won't be a shock to McDivitt and White. They will be ready for it, which was more than Grissom and Young were.

"My feeling is that it's a damned hard rap," Grissom said, "and there's no way to get prepared for it. If you know it's going to happen it won't surprise you, but that's a doggoned hard snap and these people can pooh-pooh it all they want.

"It was a surprise — the biggest surprise on the whole flight. Nobody had thought about what a shock it would be. They hadn't even considered it. In some of the maneuvers we had expected some surprises, but this one — it was a damn hard rap."

Young has spent the past three weeks at McDonnell Aircraft Corp., makers of the Gemini spacecraft in St. Louis, working out a system to reduce the hard jerk.

Grissom shattered his helmet's face plate when the jolt occurred and Young scratched his. It was determined the force was about 2½ times the force of gravity.

But no solution has been worked out for McDivitt and White. They will have to make sure their harnesses are tight and be ready. A spring-bumper device may be installed for future Gemini flights.

Upon recommendations from Grissom and Young, McDivitt and White will remove their space suits as soon as possible after they splash down in the Atlantic.

Grissom says there is no advice on what to do when something unexpected happens. During the March 23 flight a power converter failed and all the lights, gauge needles, clocks, everything depending on electricity, went dead.

"It gives you quite a start," Grissom said. "You know where you are and to see something like that — well your heart skips a beat. Then you switch to the backup supply and everything is normal again. But how can you advise somebody against something like that?"

Akron Couple Hurt In Crash

An Akron couple was injured slightly in a three - way "chain reaction" crash Monday at 5:51 p. m. at E. 3rd and Washington Sts., police reported.

The collision involved a 1964 imported sedan driven by James R. Blatt, 31, of Akron, a 1963 two - door sedan operated by John C. Garvin, 28, of Alliance and a 1959 convertible driven by Robert M. Porter, 27, of 407 Vine St., officers said.

Blatt was treated at City Hospital for a contusion of the forehead and abrasions of the knuckles. Ina R. Blatt, 22, a passenger in his car, was treated for contusions of the nose and forehead.

Blatt said Garvin's car stopped suddenly and he was unable to halt in time to avoid a collision. Porter's car also was stopped, police said. There was damage to the front end and the windshield of the Blatt auto and the rear bumper and trunk lid of Garvin's car. Porter's auto was undamaged.

Blatt was cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

He forfeited a $17.50 appearance bond today in Municipal Court.

Property at 1880 Anderson Blvd. owned by Mrs. Michael Camarda, 1884 Anderson Blvd., was damaged by a backing hit-skip car Monday at 9:37 p. m., police reported.

The unknown vehicle knocked down a porch post which then dislodged 40 bricks — part of the building — officers said.

Patrolman W. F. Copestick said an auto backed off the street and struck the porch post. The motorist then sped away, he said. Jerry Adkins, occupant of an apartment in the building, said he heard a crash and a squeal of tires, but by the time he got outside the auto had disappeared.

Republicans Will Update '64 Platform

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican Policy Coordinating Committee meets today to update the party's 1964 platform. Some declarations probably will be critical of some aspects of President Johnson's program.

Although the Republicans are having difficulty preserving a unified front on such matters as state bans on the union shop, they are expected to find others on which the 23-member committee can agree easily.

Meanwhile, Ray C. Bliss, chairman of the coordinating group and GOP national chairman, has announced the National Committee will meet in Washington June 28-29.

With former GOP presidential nominees scheduled to sit in on the sessions, the coordinating committee will sift the recommendations of task forces on federal-state relationships, human rights, job opportunities, fiscal matters and the conduct of foreign relations.

It will be the first session attended by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Former nominees Thomas E. Dewey Richard M. Nixon and Barry M. Goldwater are expected to be on hand. Only former Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas indicated he couldn't come.

Members of the committee from the House are expected to press for a declaration calling for linking a reduction in federal spending with a proposed cut of about $5 billion in excise taxes.

They also have attacked Johnson's proposal to provide federal rent subsidies. The Republican House Policy Committee says they would "kill incentives for home ownership and make renters wards of the government."

Because members are divided on the question, the committee may have to sidestep any declaration on Johnson's request that Congress repeal the Taft-Hartley Act provision which permits states to pass laws prohibiting the union shop.

The Republicans already have laid the groundwork for an attack on what they call the administration's failures in the foreign policy field.

Nonetheless, GOP leaders have supported the President's course in Viet Nam and his intervention in the Dominican Republic revolt. They are expected to reaffirm this support.

3 Of 6 Struck Toledo Dairies Sign Agreement

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — With three of six struck dairies reaching agreement on new Teamster Union contracts, hopes were high today for a complete settlement of the milk strike that started here May 19.

Agreements were announced over the weekend with Driggs Dairy, Village Farm Dairy and Trilby Farm.

Representatives of three large dairies — Page, Babcock and Sealtest—meet with Teamsters negotiators today in an effort to settle the issue of commissions for wholesale drivers. This is a major issue with the dairies that supply the big supermarkets.

The Teamsters claim that management demands for elimination of commissions would cut weekly pay of drivers from $245 to $132.

The dairies want to put wholesale drivers on an hourly rate, reportedly $3.30.

Agreements reached with the smaller dairies provide a pay increase of 65 cents an hour spread over three years. In addition, wholesale drivers at the three dairies take a 1 per cent cut in the present commission rate of 6¾ per cent, except that the full commission will apply whenever a driver's weekly pay dips below $160.

Car Fumes Seen Cause Of Death

The death of Merle Allen Dawson, 26, of New Waterford Rd. has been termed an apparent accidental death from carbon monoxide poisoning by Columbiana County Coroner William A. Kolozsi. A formal ruling will be made by the Coroner after results of a laboratory test become known.

Dawson was found dead in his car on County Road 421, near New Waterford, Sunday by Constable Fred Bixby.

Dr. Kolozsi said a faulty exhaust evidently caused the death.

He said it appeared fumes from the exhaust, which was broken off underneath the driver's seat, made Dawson ill, and he pulled off to the side of the road, rolled down a window and drank some coffee. But the engine continued running and the fresh air couldn't dissipate the fumes sufficiently.

Court Denies Stay Of Vote In New York

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court denied today a stay of a special election of the New York State Legislature next fall.

In a far-reaching decision, the Supreme Court ruled at its last term that both houses of a legislature must be apportioned on the basis of population. The ruling has been commonly called the "one-man, one-vote" decision.

The stay denied today was asked by former Federal Judge Simon H. Rifkind, now an attorney for Democratic leaders of the legislature. He said the order by a special three-judge federal court in New York City for the election "creates a state of unprecedented political chaos in New York."

The order was for an election Nov. 2 under provisions of a Republican redistricting arrangement known as Plan A. Under it, much voting power now concentrated in upstate rural areas would be shifted to cities.

Rifkind's application to suspend the lower court's order was submitted to Justice John M. Harlan last week. Harlan, in turn, submitted the request to the full court. The tribunal, in an unsigned order today, said the request was denied but that Harlan disagreed with the court's action.

Harlan wrote a four-page dissenting opinion which said, in part: "I am wholly at a loss to understand the (Supreme) Court's casual way of disposing of this matter and I can find no considerations of any kind which justify it."

The measurements are taken on a table before and after the astronauts are tilted at an 80-degree angle. The same thing will be done on the aircraft carrier Wasp immediately after they return from space.

Monday, McDivitt and White spent more time in a flight simulator practicing highlights of their mission. They also studied the flight plan for several hours.

4 Destroyers Leave For Recovery Stations

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP) — Four 7th Fleet destroyers left today for mid-Pacific recovery stations for the Gemini 4 space flight Thursday.

Real Estate Tax Bills To Be Mailed June 15

LISBON — Treasurer Vincent C. Judge said today his staff is preparing statements for real estate taxes for the last half of the 1964 tax year, expecting they will be mailed by June 15. The collection deadline will be July 15.

The treasurer said owners of real estate as of Jan. 1 of any year are responsible for the taxes for the full year. If a person has purchased property since January 1964, law requires the deed to appear in the former owner's name in the tax statements for 1965, he explained.

If the buyer assumes the taxes as part of the purchase price, he must notify the treasurer's office, giving a description of the property and the name of the former owner, Judge said.

7 Game Wardens Hear Tall Tales

CLEVELAND (AP) — "I'm just holding a pole for a friend."

"I wasn't fishing. Just giving the worm swimming lessons."

These are among the tall fishing tales Fred Schob, enforcement supervisor for the 19-county Northeastern District of the Ohio Division of Wildlife, says his crew of seven game wardens heard as they check hundreds of fishermen for licenses over the Memorial Day weekend.

Some 2,000 fishermen in Cuyahoga and Lorain counties were checked. Fifty-six were cited for fishing without licenses.

A classic story came from two who were cited fishing from a boat near Edgewater Park. "We got lost and thought these were Canadian waters," the game warden was told.

Said one warden: "If you think those excuses are original, wait until they get to Municipal Court. The excuses there will probably bring even me to tears."

If the fishermen fail to lure the judge with their excuses, they could receive maximum fines of $200 each.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court denied today a stay of a special election of the New York State Legislature next fall.

In a far-reaching decision, the Supreme Court ruled at its last term that both houses of a legislature must be apportioned on the basis of population. The ruling has been commonly called the "one-man, one-vote" decision.

The stay denied today was asked by former Federal Judge Simon H. Rifkind, now an attorney for Democratic leaders of the legislature. He said the order by a special three-judge federal court in New York City for the election "creates a state of unprecedented political chaos in New York."

The order was for an election Nov. 2 under provisions of a Republican redistricting arrangement known as Plan A. Under it, much voting power now concentrated in upstate rural areas would be shifted to cities.

Rifkind's application to suspend the lower court's order was submitted to Justice John M. Harlan last week. Harlan, in turn, submitted the request to the full court. The tribunal, in an unsigned order today, said the request was denied but that Harlan disagreed with the court's action.

Harlan wrote a four-page dissenting opinion which said, in part: "I am wholly at a loss to understand the (Supreme) Court's casual way of disposing of this matter and I can find no considerations of any kind which justify it."

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP) — Four 7th Fleet destroyers left today for mid-Pacific recovery stations for the Gemini 4 space flight Thursday.

Although the spacecraft carrying astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II is scheduled to land in the Atlantic, Pacific recovery units will remain on station throughout the flight in case recovery in their area is necessary.

Akron Couple Hurt In Crash

An Akron couple was injured slightly in a three - way "chain reaction" crash Monday at 5:51 p. m. at E. 3rd and Washington Sts., police reported.

The collision involved a 1964 imported sedan driven by James R. Blatt, 31, of Akron, a 1963 two - door sedan operated by John C. Garvin, 28, of Alliance and a 1959 convertible driven by Robert M. Porter, 27, of 407 Vine St., officers said.

Blatt was treated at City Hospital for a contusion of the forehead and abrasions of the knuckles. Ina R. Blatt, 22, a passenger in his car, was treated for contusions of the nose and forehead.

Blatt said Garvin's car stopped suddenly and he was unable to halt in time to avoid a collision. Porter's car also was stopped, police said. There was damage to the front end and the windshield of the Blatt auto and the rear bumper and trunk lid of Garvin's car. Porter's auto was undamaged.

Blatt was cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

He forfeited a $17.50 appearance bond today in Municipal Court.

Property at 1880 Anderson Blvd. owned by Mrs. Michael Camarda, 1884 Anderson Blvd., was damaged by a backing hit-skip car Monday at 9:37 p. m., police reported.

The unknown vehicle knocked down a porch post which then dislodged 40 bricks — part of the building — officers said.

Patrolman W. F. Copestick said an auto backed off the street and struck the porch post. The motorist then sped away, he said. Jerry Adkins, occupant of an apartment in the building, said he heard a crash and a squeal of tires, but by the time he got outside the auto had disappeared.

Two Face Hearings In Hancock Collision

A 1958 auto driven by Curtis Homer Shepherd, 18, of New Cumberland R.D. 2 and a 1963 auto driven by John Nosser, 24, of Georgetown R. D. 1 were involved in a collision Sunday about 8:10 p.m., the Hancock County sheriff's office reported today.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Frankfort Rd. and Newsman Rd., on the south side of Waterford Park race track, deputies said.

A total of $550 damage resulted.

Shepherd was cited for speeding and Nosser for failure to yield the right of way. The two are scheduled for hearings next Monday before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland.

Republicans Will Update '64 Platform

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican Policy Coordinating Committee meets today to update the party's 1964 platform. Some declarations probably will be critical of some aspects of President Johnson's program.

Although the Republicans are having difficulty preserving a unified front on such matters as state bans on the union shop, they are expected to find others on which the 23-member committee can agree easily.

Meanwhile, Ray C. Bliss, chairman of the coordinating group and GOP national chairman, has announced the National Committee will meet in Washington June 28-29.

With former GOP presidential nominees scheduled to sit in on the sessions, the coordinating committee will sift the recommendations of task forces on federal-state relationships, human rights, job opportunities, fiscal matters and the conduct of foreign relations.

It will be the first session attended by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Former nominees Thomas E. Dewey Richard M. Nixon and Barry M. Goldwater are expected to be on hand. Only former Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas indicated he couldn't come.

Members of the committee from the House are expected to press for a declaration calling for linking a reduction in federal spending with a proposed cut of about $5 billion in excise taxes.

They also have attacked Johnson's proposal to provide federal rent subsidies. The Republican House Policy Committee says they would "kill incentives for home ownership and make renters wards of the government."

Because members are divided on the question, the committee may have to sidestep any declaration on Johnson's request that Congress repeal the Taft-Hartley Act provision which permits states to pass laws prohibiting the union shop.

The Republicans already have laid the groundwork for an attack on what they call the administration's failures in the foreign policy field.

Nonetheless, GOP leaders have supported the President's course in Viet Nam and his intervention in the Dominican Republic revolt. They are expected to reaffirm this support.

Real Estate Tax Bills To Be Mailed June 15

LISBON — Treasurer Vincent C. Judge said today his staff is preparing statements for real estate taxes for the last half of the 1964 tax year, expecting they will be mailed by June 15. The collection deadline will be July 15.

The treasurer said owners of real estate as of Jan. 1 of any year are responsible for the taxes for the full year. If a person has purchased property since January 1964, law requires the deed to appear in the former owner's name in the tax statements for 1965, he explained.

If the buyer assumes the taxes as part of the purchase price, he must notify the treasurer's office, giving a description of the property and the name of the former owner, Judge said.

3 Of 6 Struck Toledo Dairies Sign Agreement

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — With three of six struck dairies reaching agreement on new Teamster Union contracts, hopes were high today for a complete settlement of the milk strike that started here May 19.

Agreements were announced over the weekend with Driggs Dairy, Village Farm Dairy and Trilby Farm.

Representatives of three large dairies — Page, Babcock and Sealtest—meet with Teamsters negotiators today in an effort to settle the issue of commissions for wholesale drivers. This is a major issue with the dairies that supply the big supermarkets.

The Teamsters claim that management demands for elimination of commissions would cut weekly pay of drivers from $245 to $132.

The dairies want to put wholesale drivers on an hourly rate, reportedly $3.30.

Agreements reached with the smaller dairies provide a pay increase of 65 cents an hour spread over three years. In addition, wholesale drivers at the three dairies take a 1 per cent cut in the present commission rate of 6¾ per cent, except that the full commission will apply whenever a driver's weekly pay dips below $160.

7 Game Wardens Hear Tall Tales

CLEVELAND (AP) — "I'm just holding a pole for a friend."

"I wasn't fishing. Just giving the worm swimming lessons."

These are among the tall fishing tales Fred Schob, enforcement supervisor for the 19-county Northeastern District of the Ohio Division of Wildlife, says his crew of seven game wardens heard as they check hundreds of fishermen for licenses over the Memorial Day weekend.

Some 2,000 fishermen in Cuyahoga and Lorain counties were checked. Fifty-six were cited for fishing without licenses.

A classic story came from two who were cited fishing from a boat near Edgewater Park. "We got lost and thought these were Canadian waters," the game warden was told.

Said one warden: "If you think those excuses are original, wait until they get to Municipal Court. The excuses there will probably bring even me to tears."

If the fishermen fail to lure the judge with their excuses, they could receive maximum fines of $200 each.

Car Fumes Seen Cause Of Death

The death of Merle Allen Dawson, 26, of New Waterford Rd. has been termed an apparent accidental death from carbon monoxide poisoning by Columbiana County Coroner William A. Kolozsi. A formal ruling will be made by the Coroner after results of a laboratory test become known.

Dawson was found dead in his car on County Road 421, near New Waterford, Sunday by Constable Fred Bixby.

Dr. Kolozsi said a faulty exhaust evidently caused the death.

He said it appeared fumes from the exhaust, which was broken off underneath the driver's seat, made Dawson ill, and he pulled off to the side of the road, rolled down a window and drank some coffee. But the engine continued running and the fresh air couldn't dissipate the fumes sufficiently.

LBJ All The What?

President Johnson will have second thoughts about his proposal to abolish billboards and junkyards bordering interstate and primary roads.

On the face of it, the proposal sounds like another winner. Everybody is in favor of scenery, especially if the scenery is attractive.

On the face of it . . .

Speaking of faces, who belonged to those faces we saw last year on billboards from Maine to California and from the Gulf of Mexico to the great unguarded Canadian border?

Whose urgent messages were plastered all over the great outdoors, pleading with us voters to vote, vote, vote for good old Hinky-Dink, peerless friend of the common people and defender of the public weal?

What great national organizations reached out from the outdoor advertising stands to grab us by the throat and heart, urging us to go all the way with LBJ and boring through our defenses with the suggestion that in our hearts we knew a certain party was right?

Who always clutters the great and beautiful outdoors when we exercise our franchises, with countless acres of printed material that flaps in the winter winds, the spring rains and sometimes is still flapping when another field of candidates and a new list of public issues have been nailed over the top of these dismal reminders of hopes shattered and promises forgotten?

Who but the politicos that we have with us always, along with the poor, the old, the sick, the bad seeds and extremists who dream of taking away what's left of our freedom?

What would those eternal friends of us all, political candidates and their backers, do without outdoor advertising? They are its most indefatigable users.

We can hear them now whimpering, "Lyndon, boy what are you trying to do to us? Be sensible, baby. We're all in this together — the billboards, the junkyards and us."

Their Manner Was Friendly

What will be the overt sign that civil rights strife in Alabama has reached its historic climax and is beginning to ebb?

The sign may have been given when delegations of Negroes from rural counties were given a friendly reception by white Alabama politicians in the statehouse at Montgomery.

This was the first time Negroes had been received on this basis. It was the first time white politicians who have made a living out of race hatred had treated Negroes like first-class citizens.

It was the first time Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace had called off the state troopers who customarily dominate all meetings between Negroes agitating for civil rights and white Alabamans.

It was the first and only time since the wild excesses of Reconstruction that Negroes had entered the Alabama capital as anything but supplicants. And what made the difference?

The probability that under the new federal voting regulations about to become law even Alabama cannot keep Negroes from voting in federal and local elections.

This is the key to political responsiveness in a representative democracy.

No minority can protect itself and improve its lot in society without the right of the franchise. When Negroes can vote in all Southern states, the civil rights fight will be over.

Gratitude

By Truman Twill

Does anyone remember to be thankful for eyeglasses?

When I was in the second grade—and not doing well—the teacher kept moving me closer to the front of the room, because I couldn't see the blackboard.

When I finally was in the front row and still doing poorly, she sent home a note that my vision was faulty. That caused my first pair of glasses. I still did badly in school, but I no longer had to sit in the front row.

I have worn glasses every day of my life since. Thinking back over the experience, I can lay two claims to fame.

1. I never have lost a pair of glasses.

2. I never have broken a pair. Once, a dog golfed my glasses off my face and bent them. But I never have broken them, except one time when they were off my face and got stepped on. That doesn't count.

I NEVER KNEW you could see buds on trees in springtime until that first pair of glasses.

During the years, I have worn every style of frames and every kind of glasses, from the simplest to the trifocals I am wearing now. I have saved many of the old frames. They are a collection of artifacts—from Ben Franklin to Barry Goldwater.

The oldest ones were thin, light wire, with hook-on earpieces that kept them secure under all circumstances. They were the most functional design.

Then the optical companies gussied up glasses, until they have us wearing owlish rigs that make the glasses the most conspicuous thing about us. This is sound designing. If you want to divert attention from something that cannot be hidden away, make a feature of it and people won't think anything of it. Auto designers learned that years ago.

IN MY LIFETIME, men have learned why they should make passes at girls who wear glasses, contrary to an aphorism laid down by Dorothy Parker. Even football players now wear glasses—contact lenses.

I am getting new glasses.

My old ones had come to the end of the lines. They reached it some time ago, but it's like buying a new suit. You don't just rush out on the spur of the moment. You ruminate.

Had it not been for glasses, I would have gone through life unable to see anything at a distance and able to see close-up objects only indistinctly, with acute eyestrain.

To think that people once endured this as a matter of course is staggering—depressing. Even the few who surmounted the difficulty did it with eyeglasses so primitive they scarcely deserved the name.

Look around you. As many as half the people present will be wearing glasses to read. Others must wear glasses to drive a car. Millions would be hopelessly handicapped by their bad eyesight if it weren't for glasses.

Does anyone remember to be grateful? I do.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

You been feeling up to snuff lately?

How come almost everybody always feels up to snuff but nobody ever takes snuff any more?

This brought to mind some other figures of speech that are rooted in the past and are really very strange in this ultra-modern day, if you think about them.

Most of us live in cities or suburbs, but we take for granted such idioms as "strong as an ox" and "smart as a fox," though hardly any of us have ever seen an ox or fox.

Factory and office workers toss off such remarks as "Make hay while the sun shines" every day, though they don't know any more about making hay than you or I know about making a computer.

IT IS STRANGE that the language changes so much, but at the same time changes so little. Think how strange it would sound for someone to say "strong as a tractor" instead of "strong as an ox."

Relative few persons nowadays have ever handled a scythe, yet there is "Father Time" pictured holding a scythe. "Daddy, what is a scythe?"

One thing you don't hear about any more is being "born in a log cabin." There was a time in the history of this country when a man wouldn't dare run for president if he hadn't been born in a log cabin.

City slickers are forever using the simile "happy as a lark," they will live their entire lives without ever seeing a happy lark. There must be an unhappy lark someplace, but that is another subject.

A distant relative of the happy lark is the "nest egg" you are always hearing about. A nest egg, of course, is a buck in the bank, or a stag stuck in the mud by a river.

ONE THING you should never do is to put all your eggs in one basket. You won't find many city dwellers who ever saw an egg in a basket, except possibly at Easter in a dime store.

Then there is "stubborn as a mule." You can't hardly find no mules no more, so how can we know how stubborn they are?

A couple more hand-me-down phrases are "as the crow flies" and "straight as an arrow." Relatively few people you and I know have ever seen a crow or shot an arrow. They have to take those sayings on faith.

If you say "the last straw" to some kid downtown he would think you were talking about a shortage at the soda fountain. And the "straw that broke the camel's back" must have come from a caravan on the Sahara.

We talk about "eating like a hog" but relatively few of us have ever seen a hog eat. And this raises the likelihood that occasionally there must be a dyspeptic hog with no appetite that stays skinny all its life.

As an old shepherd, you have had plenty of experience with lambs which were "meek as lambs." Are those the same little critters that gradually got bigger and upset the feed troughs so you had to set them in concrete foundations?

Hell hath no fury like a ferocious lamb. Right?

Faithfully yours,
MAX

Playing U.S. Foreign Policy By Ear

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

American presidents have had to play a good bit of their foreign policy by ear since World War II. President Johnson is doing the same, and before he's through his ears may tingle.

All of them have had to operate against communism on two planes: the long-range and the sudden.

All the presidents since the war have had plans for restraining communism and carried them out while never knowing from one minute to the next what the Reds would suddenly try.

And, when they did try, the presidents had to make-do fast to meet the new problem, hoping they would be both right and effective.

One example is President Harry S. Truman's almost instant response to the North Korean Reds' attack on South Korea; another is Johnson's quick action in using troops in the Dominican Republic where, he said, Communists had taken control of the rebellion.

But if American presidents have had to play the Communists by ear because of their unpredictability, Johnson is forcing the Reds as of now to play the same way with him and for the same reason.

How a president responds to the sudden and unpredictable provides more than just a measure of his judgment, since it affects thereafter both the foreign relations of this country and his world leadership.

Johnson has been criticized at home and abroad for ordering the Vietnamese bombing and his action in the Dominican Republic although, as of now, he can not be fairly judged on either action.

The general public does not know how much of a menace the Dominican Communists were, or how necessary it was to bomb North Viet Nam, or whether the bombing will force the Reds to a truce and save South Viet Nam.

There's something else the general public doesn't know: will Johnson act this fast in future emergencies or will he, because of the criticism he got, be more cautious hereafter about involving American forces around the world?

But, ironically, the Communists don't know the answer to those two questions either, and because they don't, Johnson will remain as unpredictable to them as they are to him.

This, in itself, may have a deterring effect on them, which may be something Johnson himself had figured out, without knowing where he'd have to act, before he acted in these two cases.

Presidential cold war planning began with the Truman "doctrine" in 1947 when the wartime Allies like Britain and France were broke and communism was pressuring Greece and Turkey.

Truman had to make a reality of his doctrine, which simply said the United States would help any country anywhere resist communism, with a series of helpful worldwide programs: economic and military aid.

And when that wasn't enough, Truman backed his programs and his doctrine with direct U.S. intervention, as he did in breaking the Soviet blockade of Berlin and in the Korean War.

His doctrine remained the policy of Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy and Johnson. Eisenhower and Kennedy had their hands full with both the Russians and the Red Chinese. Johnson has had a rather quiet time with both.

But the Russians were and are unpredictable. The only thing unpredictable about the Chinese is where and when they will try a showdown with the United States. That they will try eventually seems certain.

In the 16 years since taking over China they have been biding their time while gathering their strength, economically and militarily, and today are well on their way to developing nuclear weapons.

When they'll be ready to move is a guess. If Johnson is gone by then, his successor also will have to play by ear.

A Clearing House

By Jack Rutledge

MEXICO CITY

Mexico is a clearing house and temporary refuge for thousands of Cubans.

Exact figures are difficult to pin down, but informed Mexican and Cuban exile sources say an average of 200 Cubans a week come to Mexico.

There are 2,000-2,500 refugees in Mexico in transit at a time. It takes about 90 days for an average residence permit to clear, enabling them to leave for the United States or elsewhere.

THE CUBAN government strips all those leaving of their property, money, even extra clothing, so they arrive penniless.

Three boarding houses and centers are operated by the Cuban exiles who live here, numbering between 5,000 and 10,000. They are usually crowded. One is the Institute Laura Temple, a Methodist school operated by Helen Hill, an American woman who once taught in Cuba and was deported.

The flow from Cuba today is mainly of adults.

An estimated 15,000 children of school age were taken out of Cuba during the early Castro days to prevent their being indoctrinated, and many of the currrent refugees have not seen their children for years. Some don't even know where they are.

"I have a son who is 14 now," one woman said. "I haven't seen him in four years. I won't recognize him. He is now an American and says he will never return to Cuba."

"I haven't seen my son and daughter for 3½ years," says another. "My son is in Columbus, Ohio, and my daughter in New York City."

—:—

REFUGEES report they are not permitted to take a cent out of Cuba. Anyone careless enough to arrive at Havana Airport with a wrist watch or earrings has them quickly confiscated by officials.

As soon as a Cuban makes application to leave, a government official makes a complete audit of all his belongings. His bank account is frozen. Every household item is listed. If the man making the audit believes the applicant has stripped the house, the chances are strong that he will not get an exit permit.

Sometimes it takes a year or more for the Cuban government to act. When the permit is granted, the refugee must apply for a Mexican transit visa.

This may take six months. Once this is granted, the Cuban is eligible to make a reservation on one of the three weekly plane flights from Havana to Mexico City.

A few days before departure the government inspector turns up again for a new audit. Everything originally listed still must be there.

If there is a dent in the fender of a car, it must be repaired. All electrical appliances must work.

"What is a car worth, what is the value of a farm, if your life means nothing?" said a refugee, relating tales of midnight visits, arrests, executions by firing squads without trial.

Women are more concerned with domestic aspects, such as shortages of basic foods, strict rationing, standing in line for hours to get enough food for one meal.

Education Control

By David Lawrence

Government's Fund Allotments Rapped

Amendments to the Constitution are usually hard to get started and adopted nowadays, but there is one which might receive popular support instantaneously. It has to do with the rights of the states to control their own educational processes.

David Lawrence

Although the federal government denies that it has any intention of dictating what is taught in the public schools or of interfering with local communities in their mapping out of school districts, it's becoming evident every day that the centralized government in Washington is going to take over more and more of the education process by using its power over the distribution of federal tax money.

Why, for instance, should a state from which a billion dollars in federal taxes is collected and to which is allocated $100 million for aid to its schools suddenly be denied such aid because a federal bureaucracy decides that the state is not complying with regulations promulgated from Washington?

The money collected in federal taxes in a state far exceeds, of course, the allotments made to that state for education. What is being returned to the states is their own taxpayers' money. But it's being used in large part to require compliance by the states through what is being called "legalized blackmail."

CONGRESS in 1964 passed a law which condemned racial discrimination. The text of the provision follows:

"No person in the United States shall, on the ground of race, color, or national origin, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving federal financial assistance."

Any state which uses its federal funds to benefit schools that are predominantly Negro on the same basis as it furnishes funds to schools that are predominantly white would appear to be complying with the law as written by Congress. The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has announced, through the U. S. Office of Education, that its own desegregation formulas must be applied. This is an extension of the words of the statute, especially since Congress did not specify that schools must be desegregated. This up to now has been handled by the courts.

MANY STATES have not intentionally segregated their schools, but circumstances of residence and other factors have made it difficult to conform to any formula set up in Washington or demanded by pressure groups.

This is true of Northern states as well as Southern states. Existing law provides for Judicial review in each instance, but this today is a hazardous course to follow because already the Supreme Court has ruled that sooner or later schools must be desegregated.

Court orders, of course, have been litigated extensively, but the Supreme Court has taken upon itself the duty of enforcing the desegregation policy. Now that the executive branch of the government has joined in the battle and has decided to withhold funds as a method of punishment, a constitutional amendment would appear to be the only effective recourse available to protect the states from invasions of their authority to handle their own educational processes.

CERTAINLY when the 11 states of the South pay a total of nearly $16 billion in taxes and the federal government decides for some arbitrary reason to withhold a portion of the funds allocated to them — especially when the reason is not at all related to the educational process itself — then the citizens of these states have a grievance.

The following table lists what was collected in taxes in 1964 in those states and what they will get back in the next fiscal year for education if they comply with federal commands.

State	U.S. Taxes (000,000 omitted)	Education Funds (000 omitted)

LBJ All The What?

President Johnson will have second thoughts about his proposal to abolish billboards and junkyards bordering interstate and primary roads.

On the face of it, the proposal sounds like another winner. Everybody is in favor of scenery, especially if the scenery is attractive.

On the face of it . . .

Speaking of faces, who belonged to those faces we saw last year on billboards from Maine to California and from the Gulf of Mexico to the great unguarded Canadian border?

Whose urgent messages were plastered all over the great outdoors, pleading with us voters to vote, vote, vote for good old Hinky-Dink, peerless friend of the common people and defender of the public weal?

What great national organizations reached out from the outdoor advertising stands to grab us by the throat and heart, urging us to go all the way with LBJ and boring through our defenses with the suggestion that in our hearts we knew a certain party was right?

Who always clutters the great and beautiful outdoors when we exercise our franchises, with countless acres of printed material that flaps in the winter winds, the spring rains and sometimes is still flapping when another field of candidates and a new list of public issues have been nailed over the top of these dismal reminders of hopes shattered and promises forgotten?

Who but the politicos that we have with us always, along with the poor, the old, the sick, the bad seeds and extremists who dream of taking away what's left of our freedom?

What would those eternal friends of us all, political candidates and their backers, do without outdoor advertising? They are its most indefatigable users.

We can hear them now whimpering, "Lyndon, boy what are you trying to do to us? Be sensible, baby. We're all in this together — the billboards, the junkyards and us."

Their Manner Was Friendly

What will be the overt sign that civil rights strife in Alabama has reached its historic climax and is beginning to ebb?

The sign may have been given when delegations of Negroes from rural counties were given a friendly reception by white Alabama politicians in the statehouse at Montgomery.

This was the first time Negroes had been received on this basis. It was the first time white politicians who have made a living out of race hatred had treated Negroes like first-class citizens.

It was the first time Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace had called off the state troopers who customarily dominate all meetings between Negroes agitating for civil rights and white Alabamans.

It was the first and only time since the wild excesses of Reconstruction that Negroes had entered the Alabama capital as anything but supplicants. And what made the difference?

The probability that under the new federal voting regulations about to become law even Alabama cannot keep Negroes from voting in federal and local elections.

This is the key to political responsiveness in a representative democracy.

No minority can protect itself and improve its lot in society without the right of the franchise. When Negroes can vote in all Southern states, the civil rights fight will be over.

Gratitude

By Truman Twill

Does anyone remember to be thankful for eyeglasses?

When I was in the second grade—and not doing well—the teacher kept moving me closer to the front of the room, because I couldn't see the blackboard.

When I finally was in the front row and still doing poorly, she sent home a note that my vision was faulty. That caused my first pair of glasses. I still did badly in school, but I no longer had to sit in the front row.

I have worn glasses every day of my life since. Thinking back over the experience, I can lay two claims to fame.

1. I never have lost a pair of glasses.

2. I never have broken a pair. Once, a dog golfed my glasses off my face and bent them. But I never have broken them, except one time when they were off my face and got stepped on. That doesn't count.

I NEVER KNEW you could see buds on trees in springtime until that first pair of glasses.

During the years, I have worn every style of frames and every kind of glasses, from the simplest to the trifocals I am wearing now. I have saved many of the old frames. They are a collection of artifacts—from Ben Franklin to Barry Goldwater.

The oldest ones were thin, light wire, with hook-on earpieces that kept them secure under all circumstances. They were the most functional design.

Then the optical companies gussied up glasses, until they have us wearing owlish rigs that make the glasses the most conspicuous thing about us. This is sound designing. If you want to divert attention from something that cannot be hidden away, make a feature of it and people won't think anything of it. Auto designers learned that years ago.

IN MY LIFETIME, men have learned why they should make passes at girls who wear glasses, contrary to an aphorism laid down by Dorothy Parker. Even football players now wear glasses—contact lenses.

I am getting new glasses.

My old ones had come to the end of the lines. They reached it some time ago, but it's like buying a new suit. You don't just rush out on the spur of the moment. You ruminate.

Had it not been for glasses, I would have gone through life unable to see anything at a distance and able to see close-up objects only indistinctly, with acute eyestrain.

To think that people once endured this as a matter of course is staggering—depressing. Even the few who surmounted the difficulty did it with eyeglasses so primitive they scarcely deserved the name.

Look around you. As many as half the people present will be wearing glasses to read. Others must wear glasses to drive a car. Millions would be hopelessly handicapped by their bad eyesight if it weren't for glasses.

Does anyone remember to be grateful? I do.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

You been feeling up to snuff lately?

How come almost everybody always feels up to snuff but nobody ever takes snuff any more?

This brought to mind some other figures of speech that are rooted in the past and are really very strange in this ultra-modern day, if you think about them.

Most of us live in cities or suburbs, but we take for granted such idioms as "strong as an ox" and "smart as a fox," though hardly any of us have ever seen an ox or fox.

Factory and office workers toss off such remarks as "Make hay while the sun shines" every day, though they don't know any more about making hay than you or I know about making a computer.

IT IS STRANGE that the language changes so much, but at the same time changes so little. Think how strange it would sound for someone to say "strong as a tractor" instead of "strong as an ox."

Relative few persons nowadays have ever handled a scythe, yet there is "Father Time" pictured holding a scythe. "Daddy, what is a scythe?"

One thing you don't hear about any more is being "born in a log cabin." There was a time in the history of this country when a man wouldn't dare run for president if he hadn't been born in a log cabin.

City slickers are forever using the simile "happy as a lark," they will live their entire lives without ever seeing a happy lark. There must be an unhappy lark someplace, but that is another subject.

A distant relative of the happy lark is the "nest egg" you are always hearing about. A nest egg, of course, is a buck in the bank, or a stag stuck in the mud by a river.

ONE THING you should never do is to put all your eggs in one basket. You won't find many city dwellers who ever saw an egg in a basket, except possibly at Easter in a dime store.

Then there is "stubborn as a mule." You can't hardly find no mules no more, so how can we know how stubborn they are?

A couple more hand-me-down phrases are "as the crow flies" and "straight as an arrow." Relatively few people you and I know have ever seen a crow or shot an arrow. They have to take those sayings on faith.

If you say "the last straw" to some kid downtown he would think you were talking about a shortage at the soda fountain. And the "straw that broke the camel's back" must have come from a caravan on the Sahara.

We talk about "eating like a hog" but relatively few of us have ever seen a hog eat. And this raises the likelihood that occasionally there must be a dyspeptic hog with no appetite that stays skinny all its life.

As an old shepherd, you have had plenty of experience with lambs which were "meek as lambs." Are those the same little critters that gradually got bigger and upset the feed troughs so you had to set them in concrete foundations?

Hell hath no fury like a ferocious lamb. Right?

Faithfully yours,
MAX

Playing U.S. Foreign Policy By Ear

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

American presidents have had to play a good bit of their foreign policy by ear since World War II. President Johnson is doing the same, and before he's through his ears may tingle.

All of them have had to operate against communism on two planes: the long-range and the sudden.

All the presidents since the war have had plans for restraining communism and carried them out while never knowing from one minute to the next what the Reds would suddenly try.

And, when they did try, the presidents had to make-do fast to meet the new problem, hoping they would be both right and effective.

One example is President Harry S. Truman's almost instant response to the North Korean Reds' attack on South Korea; another is Johnson's quick action in using troops in the Dominican Republic where, he said, Communists had taken control of the rebellion.

But if American presidents have had to play the Communists by ear because of their unpredictability, Johnson is forcing the Reds as of now to play the same way with him and for the same reason.

How a president responds to the sudden and unpredictable provides more than just a measure of his judgment, since it affects thereafter both the foreign relations of this country and his world leadership.

Johnson has been criticized at home and abroad for ordering the Vietnamese bombing and his action in the Dominican Republic although, as of now, he can not be fairly judged on either action.

The general public does not know how much of a menace the Dominican Communists were, or how necessary it was to bomb North Viet Nam, or whether the bombing will force the Reds to a truce and save South Viet Nam.

There's something else the general public doesn't know: will Johnson act this fast in future emergencies or will he, because of the criticism he got, be more cautious hereafter about involving American forces around the world?

But, ironically, the Communists don't know the answer to those two questions either, and because they don't, Johnson will remain as unpredictable to them as they are to him.

This, in itself, may have a deterring effect on them, which may be something Johnson himself had figured out, without knowing where he'd have to act, before he acted in these two cases.

Presidential cold war planning began with the Truman "doctrine" in 1947 when the wartime Allies like Britain and France were broke and communism was pressuring Greece and Turkey.

Truman had to make a reality of his doctrine, which simply said the United States would help any country anywhere resist communism, with a series of helpful worldwide programs: economic and military aid.

And when that wasn't enough, Truman backed his programs and his doctrine with direct U.S. intervention, as he did in breaking the Soviet blockade of Berlin and in the Korean War.

His doctrine remained the policy of Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy and Johnson. Eisenhower and Kennedy had their hands full with both the Russians and the Red Chinese. Johnson has had a rather quiet time with both.

But the Russians were and are unpredictable. The only thing unpredictable about the Chinese is where and when they will try a showdown with the United States. That they will try eventually seems certain.

In the 16 years since taking over China they have been biding their time while gathering their strength, economically and militarily, and today are well on their way to developing nuclear weapons.

When they'll be ready to move is a guess. If Johnson is gone by then, his successor also will have to play by ear.

A Clearing House

By Jack Rutledge

MEXICO CITY

Mexico is a clearing house and temporary refuge for thousands of Cubans.

Exact figures are difficult to pin down, but informed Mexican and Cuban exile sources say an average of 200 Cubans a week come to Mexico.

There are 2,000-2,500 refugees in Mexico in transit at a time. It takes about 90 days for an average residence permit to clear, enabling them to leave for the United States or elsewhere.

THE CUBAN government strips all those leaving of their property, money, even extra clothing, so they arrive penniless.

Three boarding houses and centers are operated by the Cuban exiles who live here, numbering between 5,000 and 10,000. They are usually crowded. One is the Institute Laura Temple, a Methodist school operated by Helen Hill, an American woman who once taught in Cuba and was deported.

The flow from Cuba today is mainly of adults.

An estimated 15,000 children of school age were taken out of Cuba during the early Castro days to prevent their being indoctrinated, and many of the currrent refugees have not seen their children for years. Some don't even know where they are.

"I have a son who is 14 now," one woman said. "I haven't seen him in four years. I won't recognize him. He is now an American and says he will never return to Cuba."

"I haven't seen my son and daughter for 3½ years," says another. "My son is in Columbus, Ohio, and my daughter in New York City."

—:—

REFUGEES report they are not permitted to take a cent out of Cuba. Anyone careless enough to arrive at Havana Airport with a wrist watch or earrings has them quickly confiscated by officials.

As soon as a Cuban makes application to leave, a government official makes a complete audit of all his belongings. His bank account is frozen. Every household item is listed. If the man making the audit believes the applicant has stripped the house, the chances are strong that he will not get an exit permit.

Sometimes it takes a year or more for the Cuban government to act. When the permit is granted, the refugee must apply for a Mexican transit visa.

This may take six months. Once this is granted, the Cuban is eligible to make a reservation on one of the three weekly plane flights from Havana to Mexico City.

A few days before departure the government inspector turns up again for a new audit. Everything originally listed still must be there.

If there is a dent in the fender of a car, it must be repaired. All electrical appliances must work.

"What is a car worth, what is the value of a farm, if your life means nothing?" said a refugee, relating tales of midnight visits, arrests, executions by firing squads without trial.

Women are more concerned with domestic aspects, such as shortages of basic foods, strict rationing, standing in line for hours to get enough food for one meal.

Education Control

By David Lawrence

Government's Fund Allotments Rapped

Amendments to the Constitution are usually hard to get started and adopted nowadays, but there is one which might receive popular support instantaneously. It has to do with the rights of the states to control their own educational processes.

David Lawrence

Although the federal government denies that it has any intention of dictating what is taught in the public schools or of interfering with local communities in their mapping out of school districts, it's becoming evident every day that the centralized government in Washington is going to take over more and more of the education process by using its power over the distribution of federal tax money.

Why, for instance, should a state from which a billion dollars in federal taxes is collected and to which is allocated $100 million for aid to its schools suddenly be denied such aid because a federal bureaucracy decides that the state is not complying with regulations promulgated from Washington?

The money collected in federal taxes in a state far exceeds, of course, the allotments made to that state for education. What is being returned to the states is their own taxpayers' money. But it's being used in large part to require compliance by the states through what is being called "legalized blackmail."

CONGRESS in 1964 passed a law which condemned racial discrimination. The text of the provision follows:

"No person in the United States shall, on the ground of race, color, or national origin, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving federal financial assistance."

Any state which uses its federal funds to benefit schools that are predominantly Negro on the same basis as it furnishes funds to schools that are predominantly white would appear to be complying with the law as written by Congress. The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has announced, through the U. S. Office of Education, that its own desegregation formulas must be applied. This is an extension of the words of the statute, especially since Congress did not specify that schools must be desegregated. This up to now has been handled by the courts.

MANY STATES have not intentionally segregated their schools, but circumstances of residence and other factors have made it difficult to conform to any formula set up in Washington or demanded by pressure groups.

This is true of Northern states as well as Southern states. Existing law provides for Judicial review in each instance, but this today is a hazardous course to follow because already the Supreme Court has ruled that sooner or later schools must be desegregated.

Court orders, of course, have been litigated extensively, but the Supreme Court has taken upon itself the duty of enforcing the desegregation policy. Now that the executive branch of the government has joined in the battle and has decided to withhold funds as a method of punishment, a constitutional amendment would appear to be the only effective recourse available to protect the states from invasions of their authority to handle their own educational processes.

CERTAINLY when the 11 states of the South pay a total of nearly $16 billion in taxes and the federal government decides for some arbitrary reason to withhold a portion of the funds allocated to them — especially when the reason is not at all related to the educational process itself — then the citizens of these states have a grievance.

The following table lists what was collected in taxes in 1964 in those states and what they will get back in the next fiscal year for education if they comply with federal commands.

State	U.S. Taxes (000,000 omitted)	Education Funds (000 omitted)

Total Solar Eclipse

Scientists Study Records Made In Plane Flight

HILO, Hawaii (AP) — Scientists, back from an awesome flight in the moon's shadow as it raced across the Pacific at 1,700 miles an hour, today poured over their observations of a total solar eclipse last Sunday.

The 30 men, jubilant over a mission they called highly successful, flew in a specially modified jet transport of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and conducted 13 experiments.

"The flight was perfect, and every experiment worked," said Dr. Michel Bader, director of NASA's Ames Research Center and leader of the eclipse expedition. "It was a really fine success."

The scientists don't expect to know possibly for months whether they've learned any of the sun's secrets. But they know that they will not soon forget their close-up view of nature's most spectacular show.

David Perlman, science writer for the San Francisco Chronicle, the only newsman aboard the eclipse lane, described the phenomenon as seen from 39,500 feet.

"Flying at nearly 600 miles an hour, the scientists observed the eclipse through their instruments for 9 minutes and 42 seconds."

The airborne observatory intercepted the eclipse after a 2,000-mile chase about 2,110 miles southeast of Hilo. The intercept was "dead-on — precise to the second and accurate within a mile."

The eclipse was entirely over water, from the tip of New Zealand 8,000 miles eastward to the coast of Peru.

"Through dark glasses, the sun's left edge appeared mutilated by a small nibble of darkness. Dr. Bader continued a countdown. The sun turned steadily into a shining crescent as the moon eclipsed it more deeply," Perlman wrote in a pooled dispatch.

"As the moon's disc advanced farther across the sun, the sea took on a twilight cast of blue-gray. The clouds above the ocean turned from yellow to orange, then dull-pink. It was sunset at midmorning."

NASA scientists and space experts from Belgium, the Netherlands, Italy and Switzerland attended to their instruments as the moment of totality aproached. Among their tasks were recording corona brightness, air glow, comets speeding toward the eclipsed sun, spectrographic observations and magnetism.

The full shadow of the moon overtook the eastward-winging plane.

"A final, intense burst of tiny dotlike gleams shone from the lost sun's edge — the few seconds of light in which the last rays of the eclipsed sun showed through the mountains of the moon.

"Then came the corona, suffusing the sky with a soft but brilliant bluish glow. . .a halo around the black disc of the moon's shadow."

Also flying in the shadow of the moon last Sunday was an Atomic Energy Commission Air Force plane with 15 scientists. Their duration in the eclipse was nearly five minutes. Nine experiments were conducted.

that it remain free and strong and has the good that God can crown with brotherhood," he declared.

"We will meet the challenge, live up to our responsibility and lead the way to a better world," Hays concluded.

He was introduced by Mayor Merrill D. Hall, who served as master of ceremonies.

Ernest Lowe sang "America The Beautiful" and Robert Smurthwaite, a high school student, recited the Gettysburg address.

Smurthwaite wrote the inscription on the new memorial, winning a contest among East Liverpool and Beaver Local students held earlier this year.

THE ELHS BAND directed by Vincent Maola played the national anthem, the invocation was offered by the Rev. John Clark of the First Methodist Church and James Holt, commander of Sons of the American Legion Post 374, led the pledge of allegiance.

Following the congressman's talk, the color guard of Post 374 fired a salute to the dead, the Rev. John F. Stilts of the Orchard Grove Methodist Church asked the beendiction and "Taps" was played by a high school bugler.

The ceremony at City Hall followed a parade through the business district, with James H. Cregar, commander of Post 374, County Legion Council and president of the Veterans Council, as grand marshal.

Long Court Lineup

Penalties Meted To 13 Motorists

Facing the longest lineup of traffic violators in weeks as a result of the Memorial Day weekend, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today meted out penalties to 13 accused of violations ranging from crashing a traffic light to drunken driving.

Pointing out that at least 456 persons lost their lives in traffic on the three - day holiday, the judge "congratulated" the drivers on their presence in court.

"I want to congratulate you on being here — at least you're alive," he told the crowded courtroom. "The fact you were arrested may have saved your lives, in some instances."

—:—

SEVENTEEN cases in all were before the judge. Seven were disposed of with fines, jail sentences or license suspensions. Six of the defendants forfeited bonds. One was granted a continuance and three cases were set for later dates.

Clarence J. Beebout, 69, of 718 Cadmus St. was fined $200 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and given a six-month suspension of his operator's permit when he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Patrolman L. E. Richard, who cited Beebout at 2:53 a. m. Sunday on Minerva St., said the defendant was halted after a near head-on collision with a police cruiser. Beebout told the judge he is disabled and retired because of bronchitis and emphysema. The court told Beebout he should not be driving and if he surrenders his operator's permit voluntarily the court may mitigate the sentence.

ERNEST MERRITT, 23, of Smiths Ferry was given two fines of $50 and costs each on charges of reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident on Harvey Ave. Saturday at 11:50 p. m.

Merritt was apprehended by Ohioville police on an alert broadcast by the East Liverpool department after his car allegedly hit an auto operated by George Whittaker, 31, of 226 Indiana Ave., Chester. Merritt was hospitalized until today with rib injuries suffered in the crash.

Queried by the court, Whittaker said his auto was a total loss as a result of the crash. He said a men and four children were riding in his car "and it's a wonder we all weren't killed."

The court ordered Merritt jailed until the fines and costs are paid. The judge pointed out he has no right to suspend Merritt's driver's license. However, the judge confiscated the permit and said he will send it to the Pennsylvania Bureau of Motor Vehicles at Harrisburg, explaining the case and requesting that the license be suspended.

CHARLES E. HARRIS, 1047 St. Clair Ave., was given a 20-day suspension of his driver's license on a charge he permitted his 16-year-old son to drive after his permit had been suspended in Juvenile Court on a speeding charge.

The son, Charles F. Harris, was cited by Patrolman Orin C. Smith Saturday morning while allegedly driving a truck on the newly - poured pavement on outer St. Clair Ave. The officer said his investigation showed the son's license was suspended by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin on May 24.

Harris told the judge he instrueted his son not to drive the truck "but he deliberately disobeyed me." He pleaded "no contest."

Man, 2 Women Fined In Aftermath Of Fight

A man and two women were fined $10 and costs each today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff as an aftermath of what Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes termed a battle between the two women Sunday at 2:40 a. m. at Pennsylvania and Virginia Aves.

The defendants were listed as Alice Louise Williams, 20, of 378 Midland Ave., Midland, and Mrs. Marie Silva, 1701 Pennsylvania Ave., and her husband, John Silva. The two women were accused of disorderly conduct by fighting and Silva was charged with interfering with the police officer.

The appointed evening arrived, Yarutis walked into a meeting room, nodded to several acquaintances and delivered his speech.

The psychologist packed up his equipment, moved to the new area and repeated his program.

Oops, Fluoridated Water Gets Spiked

SYDNEY (AP) — The Dental Health Foundation's exhibit at the Sydney Show was a fluoride test.

There were two great jars of water, one straight, the other fluoridated. Visitors were invited to have a glass each and identify the fluoride jar. As there is virtually no difference in the taste, the guesses had been running about 50-50.

Then in the dying hours of the show more and more people were accurately identifying the fluoridated water. "It tastes much better," said one man. "Can I have another glass?"

One of the exhibit girls tried it, then investigated. Someone had taken a bottle of scotch whisky the staff was keeping for an after-work drink, and poured it into the fluoridated jar.

Plans More Talks With Junta

OAS Presses To Extend Dominican Security Area

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Organization of American States planned more negotiations with the Dominican junta today in an effort to extend the international security zone around the National Palace a block from rebel lines.

The junta president, Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, declared that his regime would never let the OAS take control of the battered former seat of government now held by about 350 junta troops.

"Under no circumstances will the OAS or any other foreign element be permitted to take over the National Palace," Imbert told a reporter. "Only junta representatives and junta forces will be allowed in the palace and adjoining grounds."

Col. Francisco Caamano Deno, chief of the rebel force, told a news conference he had agreed to extend the security zone boundaries to take in the three-story structure occupied briefly and sacked by insurgent troops when the civil war erupted in April.

Latin - American soldiers in the Inter-American Force could patrol the security zone line around the palace, he said. But he demanded that only a token force of junta troops be allowed to remain inside.

The rebels believe this would prevent the junta from using the palace as a base for an assault on the insurgent stronghold in downtown Santo Domingo.

Extension of the zone to include the palace grounds and an adjoining street was discussed for more than two hours Monday by Gen. Telmo Vargas, military adviser to OAS Secretary-General Jose A. Mora, and the military chiefs of the junta regime.

The palace is located in a buffer area between the security zone on the west and rebel lines to the east. Armed reinforcements are not allowed to cross the security zone to the palace.

The palace has been the scene of several recent cease-fire violations. A 14-year-old girl was killed and an OAS car fired on in the area Sunday.

A report from Santiago said two men were killed and three wounded Sunday when soldiers shot into a crowd demonstrating for Caamano in the nearby town of San Francisco Macoris.

An estimated 4,000 demonstrators paraded through the streets with banners proclaiming the rebel demand for a return to constitutional government. The troops opened fire when the crowd surged toward an army post.

Thousands of Dominican government employes lined up Monday in a fruitless wait for their first pay in a month. For some unexplained reason, the $6 million provided by the United States to meet government payrolls was not transferred from the Central Bank to local pay stations.

Another payday was planned today.

In Washington, Secretary of State Dean Rusk told an OAS meeting that the United States strongly supports a Brazilian proposal for a new three-nation committee to work for peace in the Dominican Republic.

But some Latin-American diplomats in Washington said tougher methods were needed to bring the opposing factions into line.

3 Men Face Hearings For Store Entry

LISBON — Hearings on burglary charges for three Pennsylvania men, apprehended by the Ohio Highway Patrol Saturday in connection with a store entering near Salem, were scheduled this afternoon before County Judge Luther Donbar at Salem.

Bonds of $1,000 were posted by Herbert Odel Smitley, 25, of Mathers, and John William Brottish Jr., 20, and Thomas Steven Mullins, 21, both of Waynesburg.

Chief Deputy Sherriff Robert Berresford said the trio was apprehended by Lisbon post officers in the east end of the village following a radio alert.

They were charged with the daylight burglary of the Henry Maxin Service Station and Store along Route 45 about three miles southeast of Salem at 4:45 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Maxin, who resides near the store and service station which was closed, told officers she saw three men get out of a car and enter the building. She said she ran to the store and pounded on the window, shouting for them to leave.

Mrs. Maxin said they ran to the car, dropping cigarettes from boxes, and left. She notified police, who broadcast the alert.

Gas Explosion Traps 249 Miners In Japan

TOKYO (AP) — A gas explosion trapped 249 miners today in the Yamano coal mine in southern Japan, the national police agency reported.

The mine company revised an earlier report of about 120 miners trapped after it learned there were 552 men working in the pit when the explosion occurred shortly after noon.

The police agency said two miners were killed, 21 were injured, including five seriously, and 180 escaped unhurt.

The blast occurred about 2,000 feet from the pit entrance.

The mine is located about 500 miles southwest of Tokyo on the island of Kyushu.

It's Got To Be A Boy, No Girl Would Stay

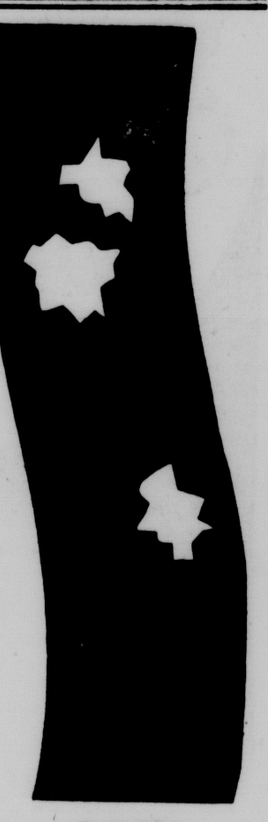

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Nearly every white home in South Africa has at least one African maid servant. And nearly every white woman complains regularly of the shortcomings of her African domestic. It's one of the commonest subjects of talk when South Africa's white women get together.

White women often fire their African girls, as they call them, and just as often take on new ones.

One woman, whose frequent hiring and firing had given her something of the reputation of a busy employment agency, was expecting a baby. It was getting very near the time. Her friends were busy speculating whether it would be a boy or a girl.

The expectant mother silenced the argument. "It'll certainly be a boy," she said. "No girl would stay with me for nine months."

Total Solar Eclipse

Scientists Study Records Made In Plane Flight

HILO, Hawaii (AP) — Scientists, back from an awesome flight in the moon's shadow as it raced across the Pacific at 1,700 miles an hour, today poured over their observations of a total solar eclipse last Sunday.

The 30 men, jubilant over a mission they called highly successful, flew in a specially modified jet transport of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and conducted 13 experiments.

"The flight was perfect, and every experiment worked," said Dr. Michel Bader, director of NASA's Ames Research Center and leader of the eclipse expedition. "It was a really fine success."

The scientists don't expect to know possibly for months whether they've learned any of the sun's secrets. But they know that they will not soon forget their close-up view of nature's most spectacular show.

David Perlman, science writer for the San Francisco Chronicle, the only newsman aboard the eclipse lane, described the phenomenon as seen from 39,500 feet.

"Flying at nearly 600 miles an hour, the scientists observed the eclipse through their instruments for 9 minutes and 42 seconds."

The airborne observatory intercepted the eclipse after a 2,000-mile chase about 2,110 miles southeast of Hilo. The intercept was "dead-on — precise to the second and accurate within a mile."

The eclipse was entirely over water, from the tip of New Zealand 8,000 miles eastward to the coast of Peru.

"Through dark glasses, the sun's left edge appeared mutilated by a small nibble of darkness. Dr. Bader continued a countdown. The sun turned steadily into a shining crescent as the moon eclipsed it more deeply," Perlman wrote in a pooled dispatch.

"As the moon's disc advanced farther across the sun, the sea took on a twilight cast of blue-gray. The clouds above the ocean turned from yellow to orange, then dull-pink. It was sunset at midmorning."

NASA scientists and space experts from Belgium, the Netherlands, Italy and Switzerland attended to their instruments as the moment of totality aproached. Among their tasks were recording corona brightness, air glow, comets speeding toward the eclipsed sun, spectrographic observations and magnetism.

The full shadow of the moon overtook the eastward-winging plane.

"A final, intense burst of tiny dotlike gleams shone from the lost sun's edge — the few seconds of light in which the last rays of the eclipsed sun showed through the mountains of the moon.

"Then came the corona, suffusing the sky with a soft but brilliant bluish glow. . .a halo around the black disc of the moon's shadow."

Also flying in the shadow of the moon last Sunday was an Atomic Energy Commission Air Force plane with 15 scientists. Their duration in the eclipse was nearly five minutes. Nine experiments were conducted.

Long Court Lineup

Penalties Meted To 13 Motorists

Facing the longest lineup of traffic violators in weeks as a result of the Memorial Day weekend, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today meted out penalties to 13 accused of violations ranging from crashing a traffic light to drunken driving.

Pointing out that at least 456 persons lost their lives in traffic on the three - day holiday, the judge "congratulated" the drivers on their presence in court.

"I want to congratulate you on being here — at least you're alive," he told the crowded courtroom. "The fact you were arrested may have saved your lives, in some instances."

—:—

SEVENTEEN cases in all were before the judge. Seven were disposed of with fines, jail sentences or license suspensions. Six of the defendants forfeited bonds. One was granted a continuance and three cases were set for later dates.

Clarence J. Beebout, 69, of 718 Cadmus St. was fined $200 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and given a six-month suspension of his operator's permit when he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Patrolman L. E. Richard, who cited Beebout at 2:53 a. m. Sunday on Minerva St., said the defendant was halted after a near head-on collision with a police cruiser. Beebout told the judge he is disabled and retired because of bronchitis and emphysema. The court told Beebout he should not be driving and if he surrenders his operator's permit voluntarily the court may mitigate the sentence.

ERNEST MERRITT, 23, of Smiths Ferry was given two fines of $50 and costs each on charges of reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident on Harvey Ave. Saturday at 11:50 p. m.

Merritt was apprehended by Ohioville police on an alert broadcast by the East Liverpool department after his car allegedly hit an auto operated by George Whittaker, 31, of 226 Indiana Ave., Chester. Merritt was hospitalized until today with rib injuries suffered in the crash.

Queried by the court, Whittaker said his auto was a total loss as a result of the crash. He said a men and four children were riding in his car "and it's a wonder we all weren't killed."

The court ordered Merritt jailed until the fines and costs are paid. The judge pointed out he has no right to suspend Merritt's driver's license. However, the judge confiscated the permit and said he will send it to the Pennsylvania Bureau of Motor Vehicles at Harrisburg, explaining the case and requesting that the license be suspended.

CHARLES E. HARRIS, 1047 St. Clair Ave., was given a 20-day suspension of his driver's license on a charge he permitted his 16-year-old son to drive after his permit had been suspended in Juvenile Court on a speeding charge.

The son, Charles F. Harris, was cited by Patrolman Orin C. Smith Saturday morning while allegedly driving a truck on the newly - poured pavement on outer St. Clair Ave. The officer said his investigation showed the son's license was suspended by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin on May 24.

It's Got To Be A Boy, No Girl Would Stay

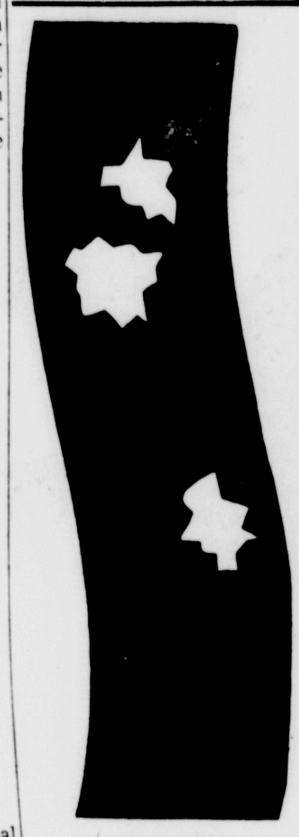

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Nearly every white home in South Africa has at least one African maid servant. And nearly every white woman complains regularly of the shortcomings of her African domestic. It's one of the commonest subjects of talk when South Africa's white women get together.

White women often fire their African girls, as they call them, and just as often take on new ones.

One woman, whose frequent hiring and firing had given her something of the reputation of a busy employment agency, was expecting a baby. It was getting very near the time. Her friends were busy speculating whether it would be a boy or a girl.

The expectant mother silenced the argument. "It'll certainly be a boy," she said. "No girl would stay with me for nine months."

27 Killed In Ohio Traffic

By The Associated Press

Ohio contributed many more than its share of deaths as a record number of persons lost their lives on the nation's highways over the long Memorial Day weekend.

At least 27 persons died in Ohio traffic accidents during the 78-hour period from 6 p.m. Friday to Monday midnight, surpassing by five the number of deaths forecast by the State Highway Safety Department for the period.

Only California, with more than 50 deaths, had a higher toll than Ohio. Ten of the fatalities were recorded Saturday, including the worst accident of the weekend, a two-car crash north of Upper Sandusky which took five lives.

At least seven other deaths came in multiple-fatality accidents, including a young mother and her two infant children in a crash near Middletown just after the weekend count began.

In addition to the traffic fatalities, at least eight persons lost their lives in other Ohio accidents during the weekend. The worst of these involved three children who burned to death Friday when they were trapped in a shack behind their home in Portage County.

The traffic count this year far exceeded that of last year, when 16 deaths were recorded in the Buckeye State.

John Hayman, 20, Carey; Judith Lucius, 18, Tiffin; Maxine Shively, 18, of near Forest; Helen L. Eby, 58, and Jacqueline Eby, 16, both of Marion, in a two-car crash on Ohio 53 north of Upper Sandusky.

Roger Knippen, 7, Fort Jennings, Putnam County, when a tractor operated by his brother overturned on a highway near Ottoville.

Sunday

Norman Arnold, 39, North Canton, in a two-car crash in the Cleveland suburb of Bay Village.

James Michael Lowe, 24, Canton, in a one-car accident on Ohio 44 about midway between Alliance and Canton.

Rain Needed For District

The need for rain was emphasized by Edwin Copeland of Millport, U. S. weather observer, in his summary of temperatures and precipitation for May.

Copeland reported only 1.18 inches of rain last month, well below the normal 3.43 inches.

He said crops are lagging and many area lawns appeared dried and burned prior to last week's rain, although he said the lack of rain may be local.

Montgomery Dam at Industry, however, reported a similar subnormal rainfall of 1.33 inches for May.

The temperature last month averaged 61.6 degrees, almost four degrees higher than the normal 57.9 degrees.

The high for the month was an 87 on May 26 and the low a 33 on May 14.

There were 13 days of temperatures above 80, Copeland said.

Sunshine amounted to 70 per cent, up from the normal 65 per cent. There were 17 clear days, nine partly cloudy days and five cloudy days.

Copeland reported a total of 14.6 inches of rain has fallen in the first five months of the year, about two - tenths of an inch below normal.

However, there is currently a need for excess rainfall, he said.

MA Property Hit In 2 Cases Of Vandalism

Property at Memorial Auditorium was damaged in two weekend invasions of vandals, police reported.

Principal Carl Pelini reported the first instance of property destruction at 2:38 p. m. Monday. He said it could not be determined how entry was gained.

The intruders broke the lock on a storage room containing band instruments and also forced a lock to obtain a trampoline and set it up, the principal said.

Chairs and music stands were knocked over, curtains on the stage were pulled loose and some of them were stolen.

A "milky liquid" was dumped onto the stage floor and it then seeped through into an office downstairs, covering a desk and a typewriter and some band uniforms, police were told. Mats used in gymnastic training were thrown onto the floor and one was torn.

A second report on vandalism at the MA was filed with police Monday at 10:19 p. m.

Police were told the vandals destroyed some chairs, benches and music stands and then broke into a locker and obtained a basketball to play with.

Another instance of vandalism was reported to police at 1:06 a. m. today. Officers said a sharp instrument was used to cut the cord on the receiver of a telephone in the Yellow Cab Co.'s waiting room in the Little Building.

forces were in control of the ambush site.

The Americans killed in the Quang Ntai fighting, 65 miles south of the Da Nang air base, were identified as Capt. Christopher J. O'Sullivan, 28, Astoria, Queens, N.Y., and Marine S.Sgt. William Donald Tyrone, 33, Abilene, Tex.

A military spokesman announced that Marine Lance Cpl. Roy Murphy of Moultrie, Ga., had died of wounds received May 28 near Chu Lai.

The fighting near the provincial capital of Quang Ngai tapered off Monday but Viet Cong terrorists exploded four bombs Monday night in a Vietnamese army compound in downtown Quang Ngai.

The blasts set fire to a police station but caused only one casualty. The raiders apparently were trying to kill the commander of the Vietnamese army's 2nd Division and other high-ranking officers in the compound.

Vietnamese military sources said they believed the Viet Cong had a division of men in the general area of Quang Ngai Province. U.S. military officials said the number probably was from one to two regiments.

The heaviest casualties in the Quang Ngai area were suffered by the 39th Vietnamese ranger battalion and the 3rd Vietnamese marine battalion. The marine unit had at least 20 dead and 60 wounded.

Fewer than 80 of the 265-man ranger unit were known to have survived a series of Viet Cong onslaughts on a hill west of Quang Ngai city. The guerrillas overran it at dawn Monday.

The Viet Cong mutilated the bodies of many of the dead and shot wounded prisoners. Some of the bodies had their stomachs cut open.

The two dead Americans were with the ranger battalion. Capt. O'Sullivan was killed early in the fighting. The Marine sergeant was wounded Sunday night. Helicopters were unable to evacuate him and he was killed in the final Communist assault. His last radio message said his position was being overrun.

Bullets apparently had been pumped into the bodies of the Americans after they were dead, but they had not been mutilated.

A new airfield for U.S. jets opened at Chu Lai, on the coast 52 miles south of Da Nang. It has an aluminum airstrip built on the sand by U.S. Navy Seabees.

Six U.S. Marine Corps Skyhawk jets from the Philippines were the first to land. The first plane was piloted by Col. John D. Noble of Holden, Mo. He received a slice of cake and had part of his shirtails cut off in a traditional airport opening ceremony.

In the air war against North Viet Nam, U.S. Air Force jets bombed an ammunition depot 45 miles southwest of Hanoi Monday. They had hit the same target Sunday.

Eight Soviet-built MIG fighters turned up but escaped into rain clouds when the U.S. planes tried to engage them, military spokesmen said. It was the first time in more than a month that enemy planes have turned out to meet American raiders on North Viet Nam.

Military spokesmen said all planes had returned safely. Hanoi claimed a U.S. F105 was shot down but said nothing about the pilot.

Communist China said today it has a right to intervene in Viet Nam "now that U.S. imperialism has sent large reinforcements of troops to South Viet Nam and carried still further its bombing attacks on North Viet Nam."

Refuse Cleanup Case Carried Indefinitely

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today granted an indefinite continuance in the case of John Dee Jackson, 824 Pennsylvania Ave., who was to have appeared today for sentencing on a charge he failed to comply with a Health Board order to clean up debris and refuse from his property.

The judge convicted Jackson on May 24 and instructed him to clean up the refuse and return today for sentencing. But Jackson's wife advised the court today her husband is a patient in Cleveland Clinic and cannot appear.

The court said Jackson's case will be heard when he is released from the hospital. The charges were filed by Gene Smith, a Health Board sanitary inspector.

U.S. Officials Meet To Study Teamsters' Vote

CLEVELAND (AP) — U. S. Attorney Merle M. McCurdy said federal officials would meet today to discuss an election of Teamsters Union Local 73 officers.

McCurdy said he would confer with the FBI and Labor Department officials. "We probably will ask for an investigation by the FBI," he said, "but first we have to chart some kind of course."

In the Teamsters election last week two candidates against incumbent officers were elected, resigned, then withdrew the resignations, charging they had been coerced by the incumbents.

A spokesman for the incumbents—John J. Felice, president, and N. Louis Triscaro, secretary treasurer—called the coercion charges "nonsense." "It's a tissue of lies," the spokesman said.

The two were defeated in unofficial returns by Walter Bryant, who ran against Felice, and Richard Cunningham, who defeated Triscaro.

Bryant then said he had been coerced, threatened and harassed by Felice supporters until he resigned as president, permitting Felice to remain as head of the 1,300-member union.

Local 73 members are not truck drivers, but employed in several industrial plants, including the biggest group of about 1,000 at the Hupp Corp., where Bryant is employed.

Beaver Road Work Bids Will Be Asked

BEAVER — The Pennsylvania Department of Highways announced today that it is advertising for bids this week for the surfacing of approximately 4,695 feet of Route 483, involving a section of the road between Shippingport and Hookstown.

The bids are to be opened in Harrisburg on June 25.

Man Given Jail Term On Charge Of Assault

David Vojnovich of 52 Midland Ave., Midland, was sentenced to 10 days in County Jail when he pleaded guilty today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of assault and battery May 22 on Mrs. Audrey Demoratz, 29, of 1705 Cleveland Ave.

Mrs. Demoratz, who is unmarried, told the court Vojnovich is a "former boy friend." A warrant which she filed against Vojnovich was served on him Saturday at 4:55 p. m., police said.

Mrs. Demoratz reported the assault to police at 12:30 a. m. May 22. She said a man beat her and dragged her down the street near her home. When police arrived, her assailant had fled.

New Arrests Are Made In Tavern Check

West Virginia state police arrested three persons early this morning while inspecting taverns in northern Hancock County.

Cpl. C. W. Tighe and Trooper J. N. Morrison entered Bob's Bar, on U.S. Rt. 30 above Chester, about 1:15 a. m. and arrested Robert Fryer of Chester R. D. 1 on charges of dispensing beer after hourrs and possession of whisky on licensed premises.

The Hilltop Tavern, located at the intersection of Routes 30 and 2, was visited about 1:25 a. m. The troopers cited Charles L. Pittenger, 48, of Chester, the bartender, on a charge of dispensing beer after hours.

The licensee of the Holiday Lounge on State Route 66 was apprehended about 1:40 a. m. as the troopers continued the raids. John F. Ludovici, 43, of Chester was charged with dispensing beer after hours and the possession of whisky on licensed premises.

The three are scheduled to appear before Squire Thomas Bellanco of Weirton Thursday.

forces were in control of the ambush site.

The Americans killed in the Quang Ntai fighting, 65 miles south of the Da Nang air base, were identified as Capt. Christopher J. O'Sullivan, 28, Astoria, Queens, N.Y., and Marine S.Sgt. Williem Donald Tyrone, 33, Abilene, Tex.

A military spokesman announced that Marine Lance Cpl. Roy Murphy of Moultrie, Ga., had died of wounds received May 28 near Chu Lai.

The fighting near the provincial capital of Quang Ngai tapered off Monday but Viet Cong terrorists exploded four bombs Monday night in a Vietnamese army compound in downtown Quang Ngai.

The blasts set fire to a police station but caused only one casualty. The raiders apparently were trying to kill the commander of the Vietnamese army's 2nd Division and other high-ranking officers in the compound.

Vietnamese military sources said they believed the Viet Cong had a division of men in the general area of Quang Ngai Province. U.S. military officials said the number probably was from one to two regiments.

The heaviest casualties in the Quang Ngai area were suffered by the 39th Vietnamese ranger battalion and the 3rd Vietnamese marine battalion. The marine unit had at least 20 dead and 60 wounded.

Fewer than 80 of the 265-man ranger unit were known to have survived a series of Viet Cong onslaughts on a hill west of Quang Ngai city. The guerrillas overran it at dawn Monday.

The Viet Cong mutilated the bodies of many of the dead and shot wounded prisoners. Some of the bodies had their stomachs cut open.

The two dead Americans were with the ranger battalion. Capt. O'Sullivan was killed early in the fighting. The Marine sergeant was wounded Sunday night. Helicopters were unable to evacuate him and he was killed in the final Communist assault. His last radio message said his position was being overrun.

Bullets apparently had been pumped into the bodies of the Americans after they were dead, but they had not been mutilated.

A new airfield for U.S. jets opened at Chu Lai, on the coast 52 miles south of Da Nang. It has an aluminum airstrip built on the sand by U.S. Navy Seabees.

Six U.S. Marine Corps Skyhawk jets from the Philippines were the first to land. The first plane was piloted by Col. John D. Noble of Holden, Mo. He received a slice of cake and had part of his shirtails cut off in a traditional airport opening ceremony.

In the air war against North Viet Nam, U.S. Air Force jets bombed an ammunition depot 45 miles southwest of Hanoi Monday. They had hit the same target Sunday.

Eight Soviet-built MIG fighters turned up but escaped into rain clouds when the U.S. planes tried to engage them, military spokesmen said. It was the first time in more than a month that enemy planes have turned out to meet American raiders on North Viet Nam.

Military spokesmen said all planes had returned safely. Hanoi claimed a U.S. F105 was shot down but said nothing about the pilot.

Communist China said today it has a right to intervene in Viet Nam "now that U.S. imperialism has sent large reinforcements of troops to South Viet Nam and carried still further its bombing attacks on North Viet Nam."

Refuse Cleanup Case Carried Indefinitely

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today granted an indefinite continuance in the case of John Dee Jackson, 824 Pennsylvania Ave., who was to have appeared today for sentencing on a charge he failed to comply with a Health Board order to clean up debris and refuse from his property.

The judge convicted Jackson on May 24 and instructed him to clean up the refuse and return today for sentencing. But Jackson's wife advised the court today her husband is a patient in Cleveland Clinic and cannot appear.

The court said Jackson's case will be heard when he is released from the hospital. The charges were filed by Gene Smith, a Health Board sanitary inspector.

U.S. Officials Meet To Study Teamsters' Vote

CLEVELAND (AP) — U. S. Attorney Merle M. McCurdy said federal officials would meet today to discuss an election of Teamsters Union Local 73 officers.

McCurdy said he would confer with the FBI and Labor Department officials. "We probably will ask for an investigation by the FBI," he said, "but first we have to chart some kind of course."

In the Teamsters election last week two candidates against incumbent officers were elected, resigned, then withdrew the resignations, charging they had been coerced by the incumbents.

A spokesman for the incumbents—John J. Felice, president, and N. Louis Triscaro, secretary treasurer—called the coercion charges "nonsense." "It's a tissue of lies," the spokesman said.

The two were defeated in unofficial returns by Walter Bryant, who ran against Felice, and Richard Cunningham, who defeated Triscaro.

Bryant then said he had been coerced, threatened and harassed by Felice supporters until he resigned as president, permitting Felice to remain as head of the 1,300-member union.

Local 73 members are not truck drivers, but employed in several industrial plants, including the biggest group of about 1,000 at the Hupp Corp., where Bryant is employed.

Beaver Road Work Bids Will Be Asked

BEAVER — The Pennsylvania Department of Highways announced today that it is advertising for bids this week for the surfacing of approximately 4,695 feet of Route 483, involving a section of the road between Shippingport and Hookstown.

The contract will call for the construction and surfacing of a 12-foot-wide climbing lane to facilitate traffic on the long hill out of Shippingport.

The bids are to be opened in Harrisburg on June 25.

Man Given Jail Term On Charge Of Assault

David Vojnovich of 52 Midland Ave., Midland, was sentenced to 10 days in County Jail when he pleaded guilty today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of assault and battery May 22 on Mrs. Audrey Demoratz, 29, of 1705 Cleveland Ave.

Mrs. Demoratz, who is unmarried, told the court Vojnovich is a "former boy friend." A warrant which she filed against Vojnovich was served on him Saturday at 4:55 p. m., police said.

Mrs. Demoratz reported the assault to police at 12:30 a. m. May 22. She said a man beat her and dragged her down the street near her home. When police arrived, her assailant had fled.

New Arrests Are Made In Tavern Check

West Virginia state police arrested three persons early this morning while inspecting taverns in northern Hancock County.

Cpl. C. W. Tighe and Trooper J. N. Morrison entered Bob's Bar, on U.S. Rt. 30 above Chester, about 1:15 a. m. and arrested Robert Fryer of Chester R. D. 1 on charges of dispensing beer after hourrs and possession of whisky on licensed premises.

The Hilltop Tavern, located at the intersection of Routes 30 and 2, was visited about 1:25 a. m. The troopers cited Charles L. Pittenger, 48, of Chester, the bartender, on a charge of dispensing beer after hours.

The licensee of the Holiday Lounge on State Route 66 was apprehended about 1:40 a. m. as the troopers continued the raids. John F. Ludovici, 43, of Chester was charged with dispensing beer after hours and the possession of whisky on licensed premises.

The three are scheduled to appear before Squire Thomas Bellanco of Weirton Thursday.

It's Getting Monotonous, Pirates Stretch Streak To 11

Giants Post 5th In Row; LA Splits

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Gaylord Perry, best known for the pitch he made against a dugout wall, has found he's more effective aiming at the catcher.

The 26-year-old San Francisco right-hander strayed off target in the first inning Monday when he allowed two hits, but he settled down quickly and held St. Louis hitless over the final 8 2-3 innings as the Giants stretched their winning streak to five games with a 4-1 triumph.

It was the best performance of the season for Perry, who put on quite an act last year when he precipitated the zany case of the many-splintered bat.

In a game at Houston, he was tagged for a game-winning hit by Nellie Fox and immediately stormed off the mound, picked up Fox' bat and threw it against the concrete dugout.

The concrete dugout didn't give. The bat did. And Perry was billed by the Houston club for the cost of the bat, $2.98.

Apparently, he's learned his lesson well. Instead of splintering bats, he's taken to stilling them. In his last three starts, he has allowed only five runs for a 1.80 earned-run average while bringing his record to 5-3 and moving in behind Juan Marichal as a stopper for the Giants.

The Giafts' victory moved them to within three games of the National League-leading Los Angeles Dodgers, who split a doubleheader with Cincinnati, winning the opener 4-3 before Joey Jay ended the Reds' six-game losing streak with a three-hit, 6-1 nightcap triumph.

Pittsburgh, meanwhile, ran its winning streak to 11 games by defeating Philadelphia 5-2, Houston topped Milwaukee 7-2 and the New York Mets downed the Chicago Cubs 5-2 before the second game was halted by darkness after nine innings with the score tied 3-3. It will have to be replayed.

Perry was in trouble right off the bat against St. Louis as Bill White led off the first with a single, stole second and moved to third on a wild pitch. White scored on a grounder by Curt Flood and then Ken Boyer singled. But that was all for the Cardinals as they lost their fifth straight.

Perry got the only runs he needed in the sixth inning when Willie McCovey hit his 11th homer, a two-run shot off Curt Simmons. Simmons now is 3-6.

Maury Wills was the key to the Dodgers' first - game triumph. The little shortstop stole second and third in the fifth inning and scored the tying run on Ron Fairly's single. Then, in the ninth, he stroked his fourth single, driving in the winning run.

Jay, now 3-1, allowed only Jim Gilliam's third-inning double over the first eight innings before the Dodgers broke his shutout bid in the ninth. Frank Robinson supplied the big bat for the Reds with a double and his eighth homer.

Donn Clendenon tripled home two runs and scored on Bill Mazeroski's single as the Pirates jumped on Chris Short for five runs in the third inning and put the game out of the Phillies' reach. Don Cardwell got the victory with relief help from Frank Carpin and Al McBean.

Bob Aspromonte's bases-loaded single in the eighth knocked in the first two runs in a six-run explosion that carried Houston past the Braves in a night game.

Tony Cloninger, who had blanked the Astros after Joe Morgan's lead-off homer in the first inning, walked the bases full in the eighth and Aspromonte delivered the deciding hit.

The Mets won the opener behind Jack Fisher's three-hit pitching and a three-run homer by Jim Hickman in the first inning. Fisher retired 17 in a row at one stretch while bringing his record to 4-4.

Clark Sets New Record In Winning 500 Classic

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The bagpipes played long and loudly for Scot Jimmy Clark's record-smashing big Indianapolis 500-mile auto-race triumph in a safe, sane but mechanically fatal Memorial Day motor classic.

It was the first victory by a foreigner since the 1916 race was won by Italy's Dario Resta.

However, paeans also sounded for the greatest showing by rookie drivers, who won five of the first nine places in Monday's methodical grind which bowled out ailing machines like ten-pins.

The new breed of rear-engine speedsters, 27 in all against four one-time Offenhauser roadsters and two ill-fated Novis, was far less durable than the new breed of drivers.

Twenty - two cars were knocked out of the race, most of them before it was half finished, leaving only 11 running when Clark won with a record average of 150.686 m.p.h., about five miles ahead of runner-up Parnelli Jones of Torrance Calif., the 1963 champion.

Nine of 17 rear-engine Fords and nine of 10 rear-engine Offys limped off the track. Two of the four Offy roadsters finished, but neither Novi did.

Third was Italian-born rookie Mario Andretti, now from Nazareth, Pa., who as well as Clark and Jones shattered the former record of 147.35 m.p.h. set by 1964 winner A. J. Foyt, of Houston, Tex.

Luckless Foyt, Monday's pole driver and also 1961 champion, virtually handed the race to Clark when the transmission failed on his modified Lotus-Ford after battling the Scot closely for 290 miles.

Then, all the slick-driving bachelor farmer from Duns, Scotland, had to do was keep his snarling green and yellow Lotus-Ford on the beam for a no-contest triumph.

That set off a screeching band of bagpipers, led by two tethered Scottish terriers.

The last half of the 200 whirls around the 2½-mile Speedway found the more than 220,000 fans applauding the tight second-place battle between Jones and Andretti.

With a cupful of fuel in his tank, Jones loafed under the checkered flag with a 149.2 m.p.h. average for second and the 25-year-old Andretti, also driving a rear-engine Ford, was third with 149.1 m.p.h.

Jones, who loaded only 25 gallons in his 55-gallon-capacity car in his last pit stop, ran out of fuel on the post-finish lap.

Behind Andretti, other placing rookies were Gordon Johncock, Hastings, Mich., fifth; Mickey Rupp, Mansfield, Ohio, sixth; Bobby Johns, Miami, Fla., eighth; and Al Unser, Albuquerque, N.M., ninth.

Fourth went to Al Miller, "sophomore" driver from Standish, Mich., while Don Branson, Champaign, Ill., making his seventh start, was seventh; Eddie Johnson, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, 12-year veteran, 10th; and Len Sutton, Portland, Ore., starting a seventh time, was 11th in the only surviving entry.

Clark gets his slice of about a $600,000 purse at tonight's victory party. Last year, winner Foyt's share was $153,650, based on a total prize melon of $506,625.

Burbick's, Bright's Post Opening Pony League Wins

Burbick's opened the 1965 Pony League season Monday with a 13-1 victory at Colt Field while George Bright's rallied to deal Woodbine, 7-5, at Dixonville.

Paul Berhar was sailing along on a no-hitter for five innings before giving up a hit. Burbick's gave Berhar solid backing with 12 hits while Litten's collected four safeties.

Berhar also led his team at the plate with a home run, double and single while Jim Musuraca blasted a roundtripper for the winners.

Hildabrand tripled and singled to lead the Litten nine. Parsons was charged with the pitching loss.

Trailing 3-1, George Bright's bounced back with three runs in the fourth inning and three in the fifth to post the opening day victory.

The contest was marked by four home runs including one each by Six and Johnson of Bright's and Lovejoy and Staley of Woodbine. Doughty also had three hits in four trips for Woodbine.

Steffen gained the mound victory scattering nine hits while Doughty was the loser.

It's Getting Monotonous, Pirates Stretch Streak To 11

Giants Post 5th In Row; LA Splits

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Gaylord Perry, best known for the pitch he made against a dugout wall, has found he's more effective aiming at the catcher.

The 26-year-old San Francisco right-hander strayed off target in the first inning Monday when he allowed two hits, but he settled down quickly and held St. Louis hitless over the final 8 2-3 innings as the Giants stretched their winning streak to five games with a 4-1 triumph.

It was the best performance of the season for Perry, who put on quite an act last year when he precipitated the zany case of the many-splintered bat.

In a game at Houston, he was tagged for a game-winning hit by Nellie Fox and immediately stormed off the mound, picked up Fox' bat and threw it against the concrete dugout.

The concrete dugout didn't give. The bat did. And Perry was billed by the Houston club for the cost of the bat, $2.98.

Apparently, he's learned his lesson well. Instead of splintering bats, he's taken to stilling them. In his last three starts, he has allowed only five runs for a 1.80 earned-run average while bringing his record to 5-3 and moving in behind Juan Marichal as a stopper for the Giants.

The Giafts' victory moved them to within three games of the National League-leading Los Angeles Dodgers, who split a doubleheader with Cincinnati, winning the opener 4-3 before Joey Jay ended the Reds' six-game losing streak with a three-hit, 6-1 nightcap triumph.

Pittsburgh, meanwhile, ran its winning streak to 11 games by defeating Philadelphia 5-2, Houston topped Milwaukee 7-2 and the New York Mets downed the Chicago Cubs 5-2 before the second game was halted by darkness after nine innings with the score tied 3-3. It will have to be replayed.

Perry was in trouble right off the bat against St. Louis as Bill White led off the first with a single, stole second and moved to third on a wild pitch. White scored on a grounder by Curt Flood and then Ken Boyer singled. But that was all for the Cardinals as they lost their fifth straight.

Perry got the only runs he needed in the sixth inning when Willie McCovey hit his 11th homer, a two-run shot off Curt Simmons. Simmons now is 3-6.

Maury Wills was the key to the Dodgers' first - game triumph. The little shortstop stole second and third in the fifth inning and scored the tying run on Ron Fairly's single. Then, in the ninth, he stroked his fourth single, driving in the winning run.

Jay, now 3-1, allowed only Jim Gilliam's third-inning double over the first eight innings before the Dodgers broke his shutout bid in the ninth. Frank Robinson supplied the big bat for the Reds with a double and his eighth homer.

Donn Clendenon tripled home two runs and scored on Bill Mazeroski's single as the Pirates jumped on Chris Short for five runs in the third inning and put the game out of the Phillies' reach. Don Cardwell got the victory with relief help from Frank Carpin and Al McBean.

Bob Aspromonte's bases-loaded single in the eighth knocked in the first two runs in a six-run explosion that carried Houston past the Braves in a night game.

Tony Cloninger, who had blanked the Astros after Joe Morgan's lead-off homer in the first inning, walked the bases full in the eighth and Aspromonte delivered the deciding hit.

The Mets won the opener behind Jack Fisher's three-hit pitching and a three-run homer by Jim Hickman in the first inning. Fisher retired 17 in a row at one stretch while bringing his record to 4-4.

Clark Sets New Record In Winning 500 Classic

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The bagpipes played long and loudly for Scot Jimmy Clark's record-smashing big Indianapolis 500-mile auto-race triumph in a safe, sane but mechanically fatal Memorial Day motor classic.

It was the first victory by a foreigner since the 1916 race was won by Italy's Dario Resta.

However, paeans also sounded for the greatest showing by rookie drivers, who won five of the first nine places in Monday's methodical grind which bowled out ailing machines like ten-pins.

The new breed of rear-engine speedsters, 27 in all against four one-time Offenhauser roadsters and two ill-fated Novis, was far less durable than the new breed of drivers.

Twenty - two cars were knocked out of the race, most of them before it was half finished, leaving only 11 running when Clark won with a record average of 150.686 m.p.h., about five miles ahead of runner-up Parnelli Jones of Torrance Calif., the 1963 champion.

Nine of 17 rear-engine Fords and nine of 10 rear-engine Offys limped off the track. Two of the four Offy roadsters finished, but neither Novi did.

Third was Italian-born rookie Mario Andretti, now from Nazareth, Pa., who as well as Clark and Jones shattered the former record of 147.35 m.p.h. set by 1964 winner A. J. Foyt, of Houston, Tex.

Luckless Foyt, Monday's pole driver and also 1961 champion, virtually handed the race to Clark when the transmission failed on his modified Lotus-Ford after battling the Scot closely for 290 miles.

Then, all the slick-driving bachelor farmer from Duns, Scotland, had to do was keep his snarling green and yellow Lotus-Ford on the beam for a no-contest triumph.

That set off a screeching band of bagpipers, led by two tethered Scottish terriers.

The last half of the 200 whirls around the 2½-mile Speedway found the more than 220,000 fans applauding the tight second-place battle between Jones and Andretti.

With a cupful of fuel in his tank, Jones loafed under the checkered flag with a 149.2 m.p.h. average for second and the 25-year-old Andretti, also driving a rear-engine Ford, was third with 149.1 m.p.h.

Jones, who loaded only 25 gallons in his 55-gallon-capacity car in his last pit stop, ran out of fuel on the post-finish lap.

Behind Andretti, other placing rookies were Gordon Johncock, Hastings, Mich., fifth; Mickey Rupp, Mansfield, Ohio, sixth; Bobby Johns, Miami, Fla., eighth; and Al Unser, Albuquerque, N.M., ninth.

Fourth went to Al Miller, "sophomore" driver from Standish, Mich., while Don Branson, Champaign, Ill., making his seventh start, was seventh; Eddie Johnson, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, 12-year veteran, 10th; and Len Sutton, Portland, Ore., starting a seventh time, was 11th in the only surviving entry.

Clark gets his slice of about a $600,000 purse at tonight's victory party. Last year, winner Foyt's share was $153,650, based on a total prize melon of $506,625.

Burbick's, Bright's Post Opening Pony League Wins

Burbick's opened the 1965 Pony League season Monday with a 13-1 victory at Colt Field while George Bright's rallied to deal Woodbine, 7-5, at Dixonville.

Paul Berhar was sailing along on a no-hitter for five innings before giving up a hit. Burbick's gave Berhar solid backing with 12 hits while Litten's collected four safeties.

Berhar also led his team at the plate with a home run, double and single while Jim Musuraca blasted a roundtripper for the winners.

Hildabrand tripled and singled to lead the Litten nine. Parsons was charged with the pitching loss.

Trailing 3-1, George Bright's bounced back with three runs in the fourth inning and three in the fifth to post the opening day victory.

The contest was marked by four home runs including one each by Six and Johnson of Bright's and Lovejoy and Staley of Woodbine. Doughty also had three hits in four trips for Woodbine.

Steffen gained the mound victory scattering nine hits while Doughty was the loser.

Miller, Radatz Extend Streaks Of Scoreless Innings

Cleveland Splits Pair With Chisox

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Stu Miller has started on his fourth straight shutout in slightly more than a month while Dick Radatz has begun his second within a week.

But for piecing together a spectacular achievement, it would be difficult to top Howie Koplitz, who has won seven games without a defeat in the past five years.

Koplitz posted his second triumph of 1965 as Washington defeated Kansas City in the first game of a 5-2, 5-1 doubleheader sweep Monday.

The 27-year-old right-hander first reached the majors with Detroit in 1961, winning two games in four appearances. The next season, he pitched in 10 games with the Tigers, gaining three victories.

A two-year exile in such minor league vocations as Syracuse, Tacoma and Toronto followed, and Koplitz didn't get another crack at big-league hitters until the Senators purchased him from Hawaii earlier this season.

American League hitters, meanwhile, are beginning to wonder whether there's any chance of exiling Miller and Radatz.

Miller extended his shutout streak to 29 scoreless innings in 15 relief appearances in Baltimore's 5-4 second-game triumph over Minnesota. The Twins won the opener 6-0.

The 37-year-old relief ace stopped the Twins on two hits in two innings and earned his fourth victory against two defeats. He hasn't given up a run since April 24, reducing his earned-run average from 7.88 to 1.70.

Trailing Miller by three relief shutouts is Radatz, who didn't permit a hit in 3 2-3 innings as Boston blanked Los Angeles 3-0. The Angels took the first game 5-3.

Radatz, who earlier this season had a horrendous 7.43 ERA, hasn't allowed a run in 10 2-3 innings, relieving in five of Boston's last six games. In that time, he has given up only four hits and has struck out 18. He has lowered his ERA to 5.21.

Elsewhere in the AL, Chicago nipped Cleveland 4-3 in 10 innings before losing 4-3 and Detroit defeated New York 5-1 after dropping a 3-1 decision.

Sam Bowens' leadoff home run off Johnny Klippstein brought Miller and Baltimore the second - game victory. The Orioles had grabbed a 4-1 lead on two-run homers by Bob Johnson and Dick Brown, but the Twins rallied for three runs in the fifth, the last two on Jerry Kindall's double.

Jim Kaat halted the Orioles on three hits in the opener while Robin Roberts suffered his sixth straight defeat after having won four in a row. Zoilo Versalles and Tony Oliva each drove in two Minnesota runs.

Injury-plagued Dennis Bennett pitched 5 1-3 innings before giving way to Radatz in the sixth inning of the nightcap. Felix Mantilla knocked in two Boston runs with a sacrifice fly and a double.

Bob Lee saved Dean Chance's fourth victory in eight decisions in the first game, coming on in the eighth inning and ending a Red Sox threat. Jose Cardenal and Willie Smith homered for Los Angeles.

Koplitz needed relief help from Mike McCormick and Steve Ridzik in the eighth before extending his unbeaten record. Ken McMullen slammed a two-run homer for Washington while Joe Cunningham added a two-run single.

Pete Richert became the second Senator pitcher to complete a game this season, stopping the Athletics on four hits in the nightcap. Ed Brinkman's two-run homer snapped a 1-1 tie in the fifth.

The White Sox edged the Indians in the first game on Don Buford's leadoff homer against Floyd Weaver in the 10th inning.

In the second contest, Cleveland's Vic Davalillo, who had doubled, raced home in the ninth as relief pitcher Bruce Howard picked up Joe Azcue's sacrifice bunt and threw the ball into the left field. Chicago had tied it 3-3 in the top of the ninth on Al Weis' run-scoring single.

Joe Sparma stymied the Yankees on five hits, only two after the second inning in the second game. The Tigers jumped on Gil Blanco, making his first major league start, for four runs in the first inning, the last two scoring on Dick McAuliffe's single.

Whitey Ford allowed six hits through eight innings of the opener, bringing his record to 4-6. New York broke a 1-1 tie with two runs in the sixth, the first coming home on Bill Freehan's passed ball and the second on a single by Doc Edwards.

Hail To All Wins Big One

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP) — Hail To All won the $133,700 Jersey Derby at Garden State Park Monday belying a reputation that he folds up in the big ones.

Trainer Eddie Yowell, pleased with the $86,905 winner's share he collected for owner Mrs. Ben Cohen of Baltimore, said he plans to give the stretch-running 3-year-old colt a shot at the June 5 Belmont Stakes if he comes out of Monday's race in good shape.

Hail To All is being shipped to Monmouth Park where Yowell will decide definitely Wednesday or Thursday whether the colt goes after the third jewel of the Triple Crown against the likes of Preakness winner Tom Rolfe and Dapper Dan, runner-up in both the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness.

Yowell believes he may have the answer to Hail To All's tendency to fall so far off the pace.

For the first time in 20 races, Hail To All wore blinkers.

Johnny Sellers, proved to Cohen and Yowell that he was the jockey for Hail to All. The owner and trainer took Sellers off the horse in the Kentucky Derby in favor of Manny Ycaza, and Hail To All ran fifth.

Reinstated in the Preakness, Sellers booted the Cohen colt to third.

Hail To All won by 1½ lengths over Reverse, from Calumet Farm, with Valley Farm's Selari third and Record Dash from the Hofbrau Stable fourth in the 1⅛-mile Jersey Derby.

In the opening round, Spring Arbor defeated Anderson 4-2 and Lewis turned back Ashland 10-1. Ashland now is out of the double elimination tournament.

Leafs Keep Hot Pace In International

By The Associated Press

The red hot pace being set by the Toronto Maple Leafs may be beginning to tell on the other seven teams in the International League.

Toronto, which swept a doubleheader from Rochester Monday, has won 11 of its last 14 games and finally has opened a 1½ game lead over Atlanta in the pennant race.

The Leafs beat Rochester 3-2 and 1-0 while Atlanta split a double-header with Columbus, winning the first game 3-0 and losing the nightcap 9-7. In other games, Syracuse defeated Buffalo 6-3 and Jacksonville stopped Toledo 8-6 in 12 innings.

Atlanta's Jack Smith pitched a six-hitter and drove in two of the Crackers' three runs in the opening game to get credit for the victory. But Columbus stormed from behind on a 460-foot home run by Frank Herrera in the second game to gain the split.

Jim Napier, hitting only .209, slammed a two-run homer in the 12th inning to give Jacksonville its triumph over Toledo.

Edwards, Valets Meet Over Wage Dispute

Waterford Park horse race track President James Edwards planned to meet with jockey valets today in an attempt to resolve a dispute which delayed Monday's 18-race Memorial Day program.

Track officials said the valets are asking a guaranteed wage from the track, instead of being paid by the jockeys. They finally agreed to work Monday after Edwards said he would meet with them for negotiations.

The first race began at 3 p.m. Monday, an hour late.

Nichols Has 73 Base Score For Annual Golf Day

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP) — Bobby Nichols didn't leave duffers much leeway in the National Golf Day competition.

The PGA champ fired a two-over-par 73 Monday in the Round of Champions, edging U.S. Open titlist Ken Venturi by one stroke.

Nichols' winning round over the par 71 Laurel Valley Golf Club course near this western Pennsylvania town determined the base score for thousands of everyday golfers scrambling for Golf Day honors.

With their handicaps figured in, it meant duffers had to shoot one over par or better to win certificates in the Golf Day sponsored by the PGA.

Last year, 73,863 golfers participated.

This year, golfers were permitted to play as many 18-hole rounds as they wished from May 17 through Monday, shooting for their lowest possible score.

Nichols won $10,000, Venturi $5,000.

Miller, Radatz Extend Streaks Of Scoreless Innings

Cleveland Splits Pair With Chisox

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Stu Miller has started on his fourth straight shutout in slightly more than a month while Dick Radatz has begun his second within a week.

But for piecing together a spectacular achievement, it would be difficult to top Howie Koplitz, who has won seven games without a defeat in the past five years.

Koplitz posted his second triumph of 1965 as Washington defeated Kansas City in the first game of a 5-2, 5-1 doubleheader sweep Monday.

The 27-year-old right-hander first reached the majors with Detroit in 1961, winning two games in four appearances. The next season, he pitched in 10 games with the Tigers, gaining three victories.

A two-year exile in such minor league vocations as Syracuse, Tacoma and Toronto followed, and Koplitz didn't get another crack at big-league hitters until the Senators purchased him from Hawaii earlier this season.

American League hitters, meanwhile, are beginning to wonder whether there's any chance of exiling Miller and Radatz.

Miller extended his shutout streak to 29 scoreless innings in 15 relief appearances in Baltimore's 5-4 second-game triumph over Minnesota. The Twins won the opener 6-0.

The 37-year-old relief ace stopped the Twins on two hits in two innings and earned his fourth victory against two defeats. He hasn't given up a run since April 24, reducing his earned-run average from 7.88 to 1.70.

Trailing Miller by three relief shutouts is Radatz, who didn't permit a hit in 3 2-3 innings as Boston blanked Los Angeles 3-0. The Angels took the first game 5-3.

Radatz, who earlier this season had a horrendous 7.43 ERA, hasn't allowed a run in 10 2-3 innings, relieving in five of Boston's last six games. In that time, he has given up only four hits and has struck out 18. He has lowered his ERA to 5.21.

Elsewhere in the AL, Chicago nipped Cleveland 4-3 in 10 innings before losing 4-3 and Detroit defeated New York 5-1 after dropping a 3-1 decision.

Sam Bowens' leadoff home run off Johnny Klippstein brought Miller and Baltimore the second - game victory. The Orioles had grabbed a 4-1 lead on two-run homers by Bob Johnson and Dick Brown, but the Twins rallied for three runs in the fifth, the last two on Jerry Kindall's double.

Jim Kaat halted the Orioles on three hits in the opener while Robin Roberts suffered his sixth straight defeat after having won four in a row. Zoilo Versalles and Tony Oliva each drove in two Minnesota runs.

Injury-plagued Dennis Bennett pitched 5 1-3 innings before giving way to Radatz in the sixth inning of the nightcap. Felix Mantilla knocked in two Boston runs with a sacrifice fly and a double.

Bob Lee saved Dean Chance's fourth victory in eight decisions in the first game, coming on in the eighth inning and ending a Red Sox threat. Jose Cardenal and Willie Smith homered for Los Angeles.

Koplitz needed relief help from Mike McCormick and Steve Ridzik in the eighth before extending his unbeaten record. Ken McMullen slammed a two-run homer for Washington while Joe Cunningham added a two-run single.

Pete Richert became the second Senator pitcher to complete a game this season, stopping the Athletics on four hits in the nightcap. Ed Brinkman's two-run homer snapped a 1-1 tie in the fifth.

The White Sox edged the Indians in the first game on Don Buford's leadoff homer against Floyd Weaver in the 10th inning.

In the second contest, Cleveland's Vic Davalillo, who had doubled, raced home in the ninth as relief pitcher Bruce Howard picked up Joe Azcue's sacrifice bunt and threw the ball into the left field. Chicago had tied it 3-3 in the top of the ninth on Al Weis' run-scoring single.

Joe Sparma stymied the Yankees on five hits, only two after the second inning in the second game. The Tigers jumped on Gil Blanco, making his first major league start, for four runs in the first inning, the last two scoring on Dick McAuliffe's single.

Whitey Ford allowed six hits through eight innings of the opener, bringing his record to 4-6. New York broke a 1-1 tie with two runs in the sixth, the first coming home on Bill Freehan's passed ball and the second on a single by Doc Edwards.

Edwards, Valets Meet Over Wage Dispute

Waterford Park horse race track President James Edwards planned to meet with jockey valets today in an attempt to resolve a dispute which delayed Monday's 18-race Memorial Day program.

Track officials said the valets are asking a guaranteed wage from the track, instead of being paid by the jockeys. They finally agreed to work Monday after Edwards said he would meet with them for negotiations.

The first race began at 3 p.m. Monday, an hour late.

Hail To All Wins Big One

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP) — Hail To All won the $133,700 Jersey Derby at Garden State Park Monday belying a reputation that he folds up in the big ones.

Trainer Eddie Yowell, pleased with the $86,905 winner's share he collected for owner Mrs. Ben Cohen of Baltimore, said he plans to give the stretch-running 3-year-old colt a shot at the June 5 Belmont Stakes if he comes out of Monday's race in good shape.

Hail To All is being shipped to Monmouth Park where Yowell will decide definitely Wednesday or Thursday whether the colt goes after the third jewel of the Triple Crown against the likes of Preakness winner Tom Rolfe and Dapper Dan, runner-up in both the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness.

Yowell believes he may have the answer to Hail To All's tendency to fall so far off the pace.

For the first time in 20 races, Hail To All wore blinkers.

Johnny Sellers, proved to Cohen and Yowell that he was the jockey for Hail to All. The owner and trainer took Sellers off the horse in the Kentucky Derby in favor of Manny Ycaza, and Hail To All ran fifth.

Reinstated in the Preakness, Sellers booted the Cohen colt to third.

Hail To All won by 1½ lengths over Reverse, from Calumet Farm, with Valley Farm's Selari third and Record Dash from the Hofbrau Stable fourth in the 1⅛-mile Jersey Derby.

Ashland Eliminated From NAIA Tourney

SPRING ARBOR, Mich. (AP) —A grand-slam homer by Neil Veydt gave Spring Arbor a clean sweep in first round of play in the NAIA District 6 Baseball Tournament Monday.

Veydt's blow provided the margin in Spring Arbor's 4-2 victory over Lewis, the NAIA Illinois champion. Anderson (Ind.) defeated Ashland (Ohio) 6-3 in the consolation game.

In the opening round, Spring Arbor defeated Anderson 4-2 and Lewis turned back Ashland 10-1. Ashland now is out of the double elimination tournament.

Leafs Keep Hot Pace In International

By The Associated Press

The red hot pace being set by the Toronto Maple Leafs may be beginning to tell on the other seven teams in the International League.

Toronto, which swept a doubleheader from Rochester Monday, has won 11 of its last 14 games and finally has opened a 1½ game lead over Atlanta in the pennant race.

The Leafs beat Rochester 3-2 and 1-0 while Atlanta split a double-header with Columbus, winning the first game 3-0 and losing the nightcap 9-7. In other games, Syracuse defeated Buffalo 6-3 and Jacksonville stopped Toledo 8-6 in 12 innings.

Atlanta's Jack Smith pitched a six-hitter and drove in two of the Crackers' three runs in the opening game to get credit for the victory. But Columbus stormed from behind on a 460-foot home run by Frank Herrera in the second game to gain the split.

Jim Napier, hitting only .209, slammed a two-run homer in the 12th inning to give Jacksonville its triumph over Toledo.

Nichols Has 73 Base Score For Annual Golf Day

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP) — Bobby Nichols didn't leave duffers much leeway in the National Golf Day competition.

The PGA champ fired a two-over-par 73 Monday in the Round of Champions, edging U.S. Open titlist Ken Venturi by one stroke.

Nichols' winning round over the par 71 Laurel Valley Golf Club course near this western Pennsylvania town determined the base score for thousands of everyday golfers scrambling for Golf Day honors.

With their handicaps figured in, it meant duffers had to shoot one over par or better to win certificates in the Golf Day sponsored by the PGA.

Last year, 73,863 golfers participated.

This year, golfers were permitted to play as many 18-hole rounds as they wished from May 17 through Monday, shooting for their lowest possible score.

Nichols won $10,000, Venturi $5,000.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Good Training Can Lessen Quarreling

If you have two or more children in the family, you can expect some quarreling and fighting, no matter what their respective ages are. But the conflicts may be so severe and frequent as to make it hard for you parents and the whole family. While we hardly can hope for no quarreling, there are some things we can do to reduce quarreling.

Dr. Garry Myers

With children under six or seven, most conflicts are over playthings and what each child considers his possessions. When the first youngster begins to move about, he considers anything within his grasp as his.

Gradually he learns that only certain things are his. When a younger brother or sister is big enough to move about and explore, he also supposes anything he can get into his hands is his.

WHEN HE handles what the older child considers his own or grabs an object from this older child, the older child tries to keep it for himself or rescue it. Before long each child may try to use or appropriate the things of the other. As time goes on, either child may be the chief aggressor.

The older, usually being the stronger, may try to take anything he wishes from the younger. He may, if he has not been curbed by his parents, or won by them to respect the ownership of the younger.

But usually parents are disposed to assume that the older is always the aggressor. They may become inclined to make the older give up to the younger. Yet if these parents will observe carefully, they may discover that the younger is more often the aggressor. Then they need also to curb the younger and to train him not to appropriate the possessions of the older.

IN ANY event, the problem is for the parents to provide "police protection" for each child concerning what he supposes is his.

As the children grow older, or as more brothers or sisters are added, the problem of ownership may continue to cause quarreling but hardly to as great a degree as earlier. Ohter factors become centers of conflict. Among them is the doing of chores, especially when they overlap. For example, when two children are assigned to the same chore as doing the dishes.

One good principle to keep in mind for preventing or reducing quarreling is to make ownership and jobs for children definite. While young children need to have a few playthings, like blocks in common, each needs to have some playthings of his own. Their jobs should not often overlap.

WHILE parents should provide "police protection" in these matters, many sources of quarreling when the children are 8, 12 or 15 don't easily respond to such protection. You can think of hundreds of situations in which these children may quarrel, especially during the family mealtime.

For example, they may quarrel over differences of opinion about all sorts of matters. Then it is not easy to discover the aggressor. Temporary relief may come from sending both from the table, or one of them chosen by chance, to finish his meal elsewhere.

Anothr source of quarreling is jealousy when one child feels he doesn't stand as well in the family as one or more brothers or sisters. He quarrels less as he feels more loved and secure, more worthwhile.

OBVIOUSLY the more fun the family have together the less quarreling there will be. When the family mealtime usually is on of companionable enjoyment there seldom is quarreling. We may lessen quarreling as we read to young children and guide them at creative fun.

Motion To Be Filed

CLEVELAND (AP)— Chief Police Prosecutor Edward V. Cain says a motion will be filed this week in Municipal Court to end what he called "trial delays" in the cases of 10 civil rights demonstrators charged with disturbing the peace at a school construction site last year. The 10 were arrested April 7, 1964, at the site of Stephen E. Howe elementary school. Another demonstrator, the Rev. Bruce W. Klunder, was crushed to death accidentally under a bulldozer.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Joseph G. Stronsick Jr., 20, told police his parents had been having marital difficulties and went last Wednesday to visit a marriage counselor.

Stronsick came home early Monday and found the bodies of his mother and father in the basement recreation room of their West Side home. A .22-caliber rifle was lying nearby.

Homicide detectives said paraffin tests on the body of the elder Stronsick indicated he fired a bullet into his wife's head and then shot himself in the chest.

Stronsick was 51. His wife, Ann, was 50.

Major Issues Unresolved In Committee

Action On Minor Bills Set In Ohio Legislature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Action on relatively minor bills is expected to dominate floor sessions of the Ohio General Assembly this week as major issues remain unresolved in committees.

Bills up for a vote today in the House, as the lawmakers return from an extended holiday weekend, would allow counties to contribute to certain educational groups and require county auditors to notify school districts of proposed tax duplicate changes.

Senators turn to measures permitting counties and municipalities to cooperate on street improvements bill. The same the procedure for handling state university student fees.

Today marks the beginning of the session's sixth month, and as yet, no legislation of major significance has been passed by the politically deadlocked Senate.

The result has been a logjam of House bills in the upper chamber.

Pending in Senate committees are vital appropriations measures, along with "fair housing" legislation and proposals to reapportion the House in line with the U. S. Supreme Court's "one-man, one-vote" edict.

The Senate Rules Committee has had the housing legislation for several weeks but declined to bring it to the floor where Democrats, seeking a stronger bill, have promised a floor fight for amendments.

The Senate Finance Committee will begin hearings Wednesday on the $189 milliion capital improvements bill. The same committee is considering the $1.4 measure and one to set aside $888 million for the Highway and Highway Safety departments.

All these bills received early House approval although the Highway-Highway Safety measure was revised after being defeated on the floor by Democrats.

Members of a House Education subcommittee have scheduled more testimony Wednesday on measures calling on school boards to provide public school bus transportation for private and parochial school students.

A second hearing is scheduled at the same time before the House Finance Committee on a bill providing pay raises for more than 39,000 state employes. Most of the increases are earmarked for workers earning less than $600 a month.

The House Elections and Federal Relations Committee is considering seven plans to reapportion the House. Committee Chairman Charles F. Kurfess, R-Wood, said more hearings on these measures are slated Wednesday night.

Funds Are Allocated For School Districts

East Liverpool School District has been allotted $185,389 as its share of the fourth quarterly distribution of school foundation funds, State Auditor Chester Goble has announced.

Other allocations include Wellsville $76,194; Lisbon $58,593; East Palestine $73,832, and Columbiana County $225,105. The total quarterly distribution was $64.5 million, making a total of $284.9 million for the year.

West Virginians Cast Ballots In 154 Communities

By The Associated Press

Voters in 154 communities in West Virginia are electing mayors and councilmen and deciding a number of local issues today.

Most elections are nonpartisan, although many candidates are running under local party labels.

Elections are scheduled in small communities such as Friendly and Pullman, as well as larger cities of Clarksburg, Buckhannon, Dunbar, Morgantown, Moundsville, Princeton and St. Albans.

In Clarksburg, four of the seven city council seats and two of three seats on the municipal water board will be at stake. Mayor Edward Forinash is the only incumbent councilmen among the 12 candidates for four seats.

Four incumbents are among the nine council candidates in Moundsville's nonpartisan election. In Morgantown, seven ward councilman positions are being filled in partisan voting.

The unsuccessful Republican nominee for state treasurer last year, businessman Fred B. Young, is the GOP candidate for mayor in Dunbar. His Democratic opponent is high school political science teacher Dael Wilmoth, who defeated Mayor W. Dale Long in the primary. Dunbar also will elect eight councilmen and a city clerk.

1,000 Feet Of Wire Stolen At Area Mine

LISBON—Approximately 1,000 feet of wire was taken some time between May 15 and 29 from a deep mine on the old Frischkorn farm, near the Wellsville dump, off Route 39, Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan reported today.

Benjamin F. Wells of Toronto R. D. 1 told Deputy Kent Garvey that approximately 750 feet of double copper wire was taken along with 250 feet of extension cord. The thieves broke a lock off a shanty at the mine to get some of the wire and tore out a hundred feet of wire that was in the mine.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Good Training Can Lessen Quarreling

If you have two or more children in the family, you can expect some quarreling and fighting, no matter what their respective ages are. But the conflicts may be so severe and frequent as to make it hard for you parents and the whole family. While we hardly can hope for no quarreling, there are some things we can do to reduce quarreling.

Dr. Garry Myers

With children under six or seven, most conflicts are over playthings and what each child considers his possessions. When the first youngster begins to move about, he considers anything within his grasp as his.

Gradually he learns that only certain things are his. When a younger brother or sister is big enough to move about and explore, he also supposes anything he can get into his hands is his.

WHEN HE handles what the older child considers his own or grabs an object from this older child, the older child tries to keep it for himself or rescue it. Before long each child may try to use or appropriate the things of the other. As time goes on, either child may be the chief aggressor.

The older, usually being the stronger, may try to take anything he wishes from the younger. He may, if he has not been curbed by his parents, or won by them to respect the ownership of the younger.

But usually parents are disposed to assume that the older is always the aggressor. They may become inclined to make the older give up to the younger. Yet if these parents will observe carefully, they may discover that the younger is more often the aggressor. Then they need also to curb the younger and to train him not to appropriate the possessions of the older.

IN ANY event, the problem is for the parents to provide "police protection" for each child concerning what he supposes is his.

As the children grow older, or as more brothers or sisters are added, the problem of ownership may continue to cause quarreling but hardly to as great a degree as earlier. Ohter factors become centers of conflict. Among them is the doing of chores, especially when they overlap. For example, when two children are assigned to the same chore as doing the dishes.

One good principle to keep in mind for preventing or reducing quarreling is to make ownership and jobs for children definite. While young children need to have a few playthings, like blocks in common, each needs to have some playthings of his own. Their jobs should not often overlap.

WHILE parents should provide "police protection" in these matters, many sources of quarreling when the children are 8, 12 or 15 don't easily respond to such protection. You can think of hundreds of situations in which these children may quarrel, especially during the family mealtime.

For example, they may quarrel over differences of opinion about all sorts of matters. Then it is not easy to discover the aggressor. Temporary relief may come from sending both from the table, or one of them chosen by chance, to finish his meal elsewhere.

Anothr source of quarreling is jealousy when one child feels he doesn't stand as well in the family as one or more brothers or sisters. He quarrels less as he feels more loved and secure, more worthwhile.

OBVIOUSLY the more fun the family have together the less quarreling there will be. When the family mealtime usually is on of companionable enjoyment there seldom is quarreling. We may lessen quarreling as we read to young children and guide them at creative fun.

My bulletins, "Quarreling and Fighting by Children," "Preventing and Reducing Jealousy," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our 7-year-old daughter has a recurring bacterial infection of the sinuses which causes her to cough a great deal. She is under a doctor's care.

My husband is high - strung and unreasonable. He has decided nothing is wrong with the child, that she coughs just to get on his nerves. When he yells at her to stop coughing she becomes nervous and coughs more.

Last night the girl had a coughing spell at the dinner table and her father said, "I'll bet you never cough during the day. You save all your coughing until I get home." The child began to cry and her father ordered her to leave the table.

Please suggest something I can say so my husband will understand what he is doing to the child. — MEMPHIS MOTHER.

Dear Mother: It's difficult if not impossible; to reason with someone who, according to your own description, is "high - strung and unreasonable." Your best bet is to enlist the help of your physician.

Ask the physician to telephone or drop your husband a note explaining the child's problem and urge him to be patient and gentle.

A cough can become a nervous habit that lingers long after the infection is gone. If your husband doesn't stop picking at the girl her cough could hang on for years.

Big Shot

Dear Ann: My boy friend is 20. (I will call him Willard.) He dropped out of high school during his senior year because he was offered $90 a week to be the assistant manager in a bicycle shop.

The job lasted six weeks and he has gone from one thing to another ever since. Willard hasn't had any kind of job for the last two months and this is what worries me.

Two weeks ago he drove over in a new car. He had on a new suit and new shoes. He had bought me a beautiful pin with real diamonds in it.

I don't like the fellows he hangs out with and I'm afraid they are up to no good. When I asked Willard where he got the money for the car and clothes and my gift, he said, "I hit a lucky streak at the track."

My folks say I should report him to the police but I can't bring myself to do it. I'm worried sick. Please advise me. — BLUE EYES.

Dear Blue Eyes: Return the pin and tell Willard you can't accept a gift from a fellow who is not employed.

Tell him you think he is involved in something shady and that you don't want to see him again until he proves he is interested in continuing his education, or getting a steady job. If he doesn't straighten around, I advise you to stop seeing him or YOU might get into trouble.

Shy Of Compliments

Dear Ann: I have a friend who is attractive, dresses in fine taste and gets many compliments. Why is it that she is unable to accept a compliment gracefully? She always replies with some stupid remark such as, "Oh, this dress is four years old" — or — "Do you really like my scarf? I took it off an old suit."

Yesterday when I admired her hat she said, "It's not one of my favorites. I wore it because my hair looks so terrible." It made me sorry I had said anything. Why is she like that? — BAFFLED.

Dear Baff: Some people can handle an insult better than they can handle a compliment. Praise makes them uncomfortable because they are insecure and not sure they deserve it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Hooded Order's Strength In State?

Questions Unanswered As KKK Ends Ohio Rally

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—The rather uneventful four-day rally that was supposed to show Ohioans the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan are still active in the North was over today and a lot of questions remained unanswered.

The main question concerned the hooded order's strength in Ohio, where a governor had to proclaim martial law 40 years ago in an effort to curb the Klan.

Grand Emperor Hugh Morris of Burchanan, Ga., seemed pleased Monday night when he said in the glare of a burning cross that the rally had been successful. He had said earlier that 200 to 500 new members were iniatiated in the Cincinnati area during the weekend, but there was no increase in the number of robed Klansmen at the rally.

Several thousand persons visited Parkie Scott's farm in northern Warren County during the four days and nights of the rally. Many of them just curious, many were college youths who came to listen with amazed expressions and sometimes to argue with Klan speakers—but there were also many who signed membership application blanks on a card table in Scott's back yard.

About 750 people watched a 45-foot cross burn Monday night. Some 300 were on hand for Saturday night's ceremony.

There was talk that the applications totaled more than 200, but Morris would not cite any figures. Only a few Klansmen in robes and hoods were in sight during the rally, which included two cross burning ceremonies.

"We had virtually no problems, but it was a long drawn-out affair," Sheriff Byron Kennard Sr. said Monday night as the spectators of the second cross-burning left Scott's farm seven miles northeast of here.

Morris, clad in a business suit touched off that cross. On Saturday night, Imperial Wizard James R. Venable of Atlanta performed the ceremony and both he and Morris wore Klan robes.

Emperor Morris, who seemed quite at ease with newsmen and northerners, was vague about his plans but hinted he might stay in the Cincinnati area for a while longer.

Morris said several times that rallies of the Warren County type were mostly "to let people know about the klan."

He did hint similar large rallies might be held elsewhere in Ohio and the North. When pressed by newsmen, he mentioned several places. The places were different each day, but Dayton and the Cleveland area were mentioned more often than others.

Vagueness and secrecy seemed to be part of Klan tactics. The few hooded figures who showed up—the most were six at a time—refused to give their names. The 30 or so unmasked "regulars" who were at the farm each day also would not say who they were or whether they were members of the Klan.

A number of the regulars said they were members of the States Rights Party, whose Cincinnati leader, Mrs. Eloise Witte, was one of the moving spirits behind the rally.

Three persons were arrested during the rally. The tensest moment came Sunday night when two young Cincinnati men were roughly ejected after they allegedly got into an argument with a racist speaker.

Greek Ship Magnate's Yacht Hit By Blaze

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Fire broke out today on Greek shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis' yacht Christina when it arrived from Monte Carlo with Onassis and opera star Maria Callas aboard.

The fire reportedly started from an overheated motor controlling the bow anchor. A fire-fighting ship and four of the port's fire engines rushed to the scene, but the Christina's crew put out the fire with ship's equipment.

The Christina entered the port to take on provisions for a cruise of the Greek islands.

Judge's Funeral Set

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court will close at noon Wednesday for the funeral of Judge Saul S. Danaceau, 67, who died Sunday night after suffering a heart attack Saturday.

Major Votes Wait Decision By Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress returned from its long Memorial Day weekend today to face a busy week involving several major votes.

The House schedule was by far the busier.

On tap today was a vote on a $2-billion appropriation for the State, Justice and Commerce departments. Little debate was expected.

Wednesday, the House takes up the proposed $4.8-billion cut in federal excise taxes. This would eliminate most excises during the next four years, including the 10 per cent tax on automobiles.

Also on the House calendar this week are measures to continue the President's power to propose, subject to congressional veto, reorganizations of executive departments and to increase the national debt limit from $324 billion to $328 billion.

Amid all this, House backers of a voting-rights bill hope the Rules Committee will decide to clear the legislation for a final vote. The Senate passed its version of the voting-rights bill last week.

The Senate's major business today is a vote on an administration economic development bill designed to stimulate business in economically depressed areas. It would provide $3 billion over five years.

Later in the week, the Senate will consider the $3.37-billion foreign aid authorization approved by the House last week.

President Faces Busy Schedule Back In Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson returned to the White House today from a Texas weekend to face a busy schedule that includes daughter Luci's high school graduation and a news conference.

Johnson was to address Luci, 17, and 58 other graduates of the National Cathedral School for Girls in the morning, witness the swearing in of nine federal officials during the noon hour, and hold an afternoon news conference.

The formal session with newsmen, Johnson's first since April 27, was scheduled for the White House East Room and will be open to live television and radio coverage.

Johnson, who flew to Texas last Thursday night, didn't leave his native state until after dark Monday night. In late afternoon, the sun was shining brightly, after a weekend of cloudy skies, so the President decided to enjoy it to the last possible minute.

Mrs. Johnson, who will be leaving for a holiday in the Virgin Islands Wednesday, returned with him.

Forced Rail Ride Seen 'Ghastly Experience'

LACKAWANNA, N.Y. (AP) — "It was a ghastly experience," said Joseph Martin of his forced five-hour rail ride from Erie, Pa., to Lackawanna after his foot became trapped in a freight-car coupling.

The 37-year-old construction worker suffered a crushed right foot in the Sunday episode. He was reported in fair condition at a hospital here.

Martin said he was taking a short cut to his auto in an Erie freight yard. His foot caught as he climbed over the coupling between two freight cars.

Before Martin could get help, the train started moving, the coupling tightened and it was 2½ hours before he could free his right foot.

He clung to a railroad-car ladder for the last leg of the 100-mile journey.

Fire Hits Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)— Fire raged out of control for two hours Monday night at the Family Furniture Store in downtown Toledo. Flames burst through the roof of the two-story brick building and shot high in the air before firemen finally brought the fire under control. Damage to the building was estimated by fire authorities at $40,000.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Gals: Let's discuss a subject that nobody likes . . . cleaning ABOVE kitchen cabinets.

What a mess! No matter how clean the housewife is, this little storage shelf collects more grease, carbon, and goo than one could possibly imagine.

The day you try to clean the top of your cabinets, don't plan anything else. If you get that done, and do it the right way while you're at it, the next time will be far easier, quicker and smoother.

Here's how:

The best way we know of to remove the goo is to put one-half cup of kerosene to a pail of hot water. Use paper napkins or paper towels and dip them into this wonderful mixture and wipe away.

Now, there is a reason for using paper napkins or paper towels instead of rags.

IT'S THE TENDENCY of the housewife to use rags for this purpose. But you will not throw away that rag when it has become so soiled, instead you will dip it into the mixture again, wring it out and just smear more dirt. A rag is not the proper thing to use for this purpose.

The reason that I suggest using paper products for this nasty job is because once the paper gets dirty, throw it away and pick up a clean piece. Paper products, including facial tissues, are mighty cheap and they do not have to be washed.

In place of kerosene, I have found that an ammonia and water solution (read directions on bottle) also is excellent for removing carbon. However, ammonia does have an odor, especially when we are working up high, near the ceiling. Also, if ammonia is made too strong, it will remove paint! Especially, if you have wooden cabinets.

AFTER THIS surface is clean and rinsed thoroughly (and to save you trouble for months to come), take your roll of inexpensive wax paer and cover the top of the shelves.

Better yet, if you put two pieces of wax paper — one on top of the other — the next time it roars with dust and carbon accumulation, you can just rip off the top piece! This will save you hours in cleaning up. (And, by the way, if you're smart, you'll keep it for fly paer because I guarantee it will stick!)

Then, and only then, replace the items you keep up there, such as turkey platters, (this is a great place for platters as they don't fit many places) the vaporizer, big pieces of china, the waffle iron, etc., and never, never place anything up there without covering it was a piece of plastic.

GARMENT BAGS are excellent for this. Mainly, because they adhere to each article, and we get them free. Then, when it comes time to use something, all you have to do is remove the covering and it's clean as a whistle. This also saves washing those articles.

If you use this method of cleaning, the next time that old, oily day comes around you can do it in one-fourth the time.

Why waste time and elbow grease?

HELOISE.

Sticky Question Divides Southern California Resort

SAN MARCOS, Calif. (AP)—This Southern California resort community is divided by a sticky question.

Is it cruel to chase a greased pig that smells like a rose?

Planners of the North San Diego County Country Fair say they intend to hold greased-pig races throughout the fair, Thursday through Sunday, as an event "as traditionally American as Fourth of July oratory."

The California branch of the U.S. Humane Society has asked sheriff's officers to halt the race, saying it would be "harassment of an animal."

"It is hypocritical to criticize this mild amusement while permitting rodeos and horse racing," replied Ralph Prater, fair president.

Besides, he said, the pig will be greased with a $25-per-ounce cosmetic cream, to render the race sweeter to both pig and pursuer.

Ohio Pike Fund Hit $2,410,000 In May

CLEVELAND (AP)— Ohio Turnpike revenues, which set new records virtually every month, continued to mount in May, reaching an estimated $2,410,000.

That is nearly $100,000 more than the previous high for a May—$2,308,895 in 1964, the Turnpike Commission reported today.

"May 1965 was the 13th consecutive month in which Turnpike revenue exceeded that of the corresponding month of the previous year," Turnpike Commission Chairman James W. Shocknessy reported.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our 7-year-old daughter has a recurring bacterial infection of the sinuses which causes her to cough a great deal. She is under a doctor's care.

My husband is high - strung and unreasonable. He has decided nothing is wrong with the child, that she coughs just to get on his nerves. When he yells at her to stop coughing she becomes nervous and coughs more.

Last night the girl had a coughing spell at the dinner table and her father said, "I'll bet you never cough during the day. You save all your coughing until I get home." The child began to cry and her father ordered her to leave the table.

Please suggest something I can say so my husband will understand what he is doing to the child. — MEMPHIS MOTHER.

Dear Mother: It's difficult if not impossible; to reason with someone who, according to your own description, is "high - strung and unreasonable." Your best bet is to enlist the help of your physician.

Ask the physician to telephone or drop your husband a note explaining the child's problem and urge him to be patient and gentle.

A cough can become a nervous habit that lingers long after the infection is gone. If your husband doesn't stop picking at the girl her cough could hang on for years.

Big Shot

Dear Ann: My boy friend is 20. (I will call him Willard.) He dropped out of high school during his senior year because he was offered $90 a week to be the assistant manager in a bicycle shop.

The job lasted six weeks and he has gone from one thing to another ever since. Willard hasn't had any kind of job for the last two months and this is what worries me.

Two weeks ago he drove over in a new car. He had on a new suit and new shoes. He had bought me a beautiful pin with real diamonds in it.

I don't like the fellows he hangs out with and I'm afraid they are up to no good. When I asked Willard where he got the money for the car and clothes and my gift, he said, "I hit a lucky streak at the track."

My folks say I should report him to the police but I can't bring myself to do it. I'm worried sick. Please advise me. — BLUE EYES.

Dear Blue Eyes: Return the pin and tell Willard you can't accept a gift from a fellow who is not employed.

Tell him you think he is involved in something shady and that you don't want to see him again until he proves he is interested in continuing his education, or getting a steady job. If he doesn't straighten around, I advise you to stop seeing him or YOU might get into trouble.

Shy Of Compliments

Dear Ann: I have a friend who is attractive, dresses in fine taste and gets many compliments. Why is it that she is unable to accept a compliment gracefully? She always replies with some stupid remark such as, "Oh, this dress is four years old" — or — "Do you really like my scarf? I took it off an old suit."

Yesterday when I admired her hat she said, "It's not one of my favorites. I wore it because my hair looks so terrible." It made me sorry I had said anything. Why is she like that? — BAFFLED.

Dear Baff: Some people can handle an insult better than they can handle a compliment. Praise makes them uncomfortable because they are insecure and not sure they deserve it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Hooded Order's Strength In State?

Questions Unanswered As KKK Ends Ohio Rally

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—The rather uneventful four-day rally that was supposed to show Ohioans the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan are still active in the North was over today and a lot of questions remained unanswered.

The main question concerned the hooded order's strength in Ohio, where a governor had to proclaim martial law 40 years ago in an effort to curb the Klan.

Grand Emperor Hugh Morris of Burchanan, Ga., seemed pleased Monday night when he said in the glare of a burning cross that the rally had been successful. He had said earlier that 200 to 500 new members were iniatiated in the Cincinnati area during the weekend, but there was no increase in the number of robed Klansmen at the rally.

Several thousand persons visited Parkie Scott's farm in northern Warren County during the four days and nights of the rally. Many of them just curious, many were college youths who came to listen with amazed expressions and sometimes to argue with Klan speakers—but there were also many who signed membership application blanks on a card table in Scott's back yard.

About 750 people watched a 45-foot cross burn Monday night. Some 300 were on hand for Saturday night's ceremony.

There was talk that the applications totaled more than 200, but Morris would not cite any figures. Only a few Klansmen in robes and hoods were in sight during the rally, which included two cross burning ceremonies.

"We had virtually no problems, but it was a long drawn-out affair," Sheriff Byron Kennard Sr. said Monday night as the spectators of the second cross-burning left Scott's farm seven miles northeast of here.

Morris, clad in a business suit touched off that cross. On Saturday night, Imperial Wizard James R. Venable of Atlanta performed the ceremony and both he and Morris wore Klan robes.

Emperor Morris, who seemed quite at ease with newsmen and northerners, was vague about his plans but hinted he might stay in the Cincinnati area for a while longer.

Morris said several times that rallies of the Warren County type were mostly "to let people know about the klan."

He did hint similar large rallies might be held elsewhere in Ohio and the North. When pressed by newsmen, he mentioned several places. The places were different each day, but Dayton and the Cleveland area were mentioned more often than others.

Vagueness and secrecy seemed to be part of Klan tactics. The few hooded figures who showed up—the most were six at a time—refused to give their names. The 30 or so unmasked "regulars" who were at the farm each day also would not say who they were or whether they were members of the Klan.

A number of the regulars said they were members of the States Rights Party, whose Cincinnati leader, Mrs. Eloise Witte, was one of the moving spirits behind the rally.

Three persons were arrested during the rally. The tensest moment came Sunday night when two young Cincinnati men were roughly ejected after they allegedly got into an argument with a racist speaker.

Major Votes Wait Decision By Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress returned from its long Memorial Day weekend today to face a busy week involving several major votes.

The House schedule was by far the busier.

On tap today was a vote on a $2-billion appropriation for the State, Justice and Commerce departments. Little debate was expected.

Wednesday, the House takes up the proposed $4.8-billion cut in federal excise taxes. This would eliminate most excises during the next four years, including the 10 per cent tax on automobiles.

Also on the House calendar this week are measures to continue the President's power to propose, subject to congressional veto, reorganizations of executive departments and to increase the national debt limit from $324 billion to $328 billion.

Amid all this, House backers of a voting-rights bill hope the Rules Committee will decide to clear the legislation for a final vote. The Senate passed its version of the voting-rights bill last week.

The Senate's major business today is a vote on an administration economic development bill designed to stimulate business in economically depressed areas. It would provide $3 billion over five years.

Later in the week, the Senate will consider the $3.37-billion foreign aid authorization approved by the House last week.

President Faces Busy Schedule Back In Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson returned to the White House today from a Texas weekend to face a busy schedule that includes daughter Luci's high school graduation and a news conference.

Johnson was to address Luci, 17, and 58 other graduates of the National Cathedral School for Girls in the morning, witness the swearing in of nine federal officials during the noon hour, and hold an afternoon news conference.

The formal session with newsmen, Johnson's first since April 27, was scheduled for the White House East Room and will be open to live television and radio coverage.

Johnson, who flew to Texas last Thursday night, didn't leave his native state until after dark Monday night. In late afternoon, the sun was shining brightly, after a weekend of cloudy skies, so the President decided to enjoy it to the last possible minute.

Mrs. Johnson, who will be leaving for a holiday in the Virgin Islands Wednesday, returned with him.

Greek Ship Magnate's Yacht Hit By Blaze

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Fire broke out today on Greek shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis' yacht Christina when it arrived from Monte Carlo with Onassis and opera star Maria Callas aboard.

The fire reportedly started from an overheated motor controlling the bow anchor. A fire-fighting ship and four of the port's fire engines rushed to the scene, but the Christina's crew put out the fire with ship's equipment.

The Christina entered the port to take on provisions for a cruise of the Greek islands.

Judge's Funeral Set

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court will close at noon Wednesday for the funeral of Judge Saul S. Danaceau, 67, who died Sunday night after suffering a heart attack Saturday.

Forced Rail Ride Seen 'Ghastly Experience'

LACKAWANNA, N.Y. (AP) — "It was a ghastly experience," said Joseph Martin of his forced five-hour rail ride from Erie, Pa., to Lackawanna after his foot became trapped in a freight-car coupling.

The 37-year-old construction worker suffered a crushed right foot in the Sunday episode. He was reported in fair condition at a hospital here.

Martin said he was taking a short cut to his auto in an Erie freight yard. His foot caught as he climbed over the coupling between two freight cars.

Before Martin could get help, the train started moving, the coupling tightened and it was 2½ hours before he could free his right foot.

He clung to a railroad-car ladder for the last leg of the 100-mile journey.

Fire Hits Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)— Fire raged out of control for two hours Monday night at the Family Furniture Store in downtown Toledo. Flames burst through the roof of the two-story brick building and shot high in the air before firemen finally brought the fire under control. Damage to the building was estimated by fire authorities at $40,000.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Gals: Let's discuss a subject that nobody likes . . . cleaning ABOVE kitchen cabinets.

What a mess! No matter how clean the housewife is, this little storage shelf collects more grease, carbon, and goo than one could possibly imagine.

The day you try to clean the top of your cabinets, don't plan anything else. If you get that done, and do it the right way while you're at it, the next time will be far easier, quicker and smoother.

Here's how:

The best way we know of to remove the goo is to put one-half cup of kerosene to a pail of hot water. Use paper napkins or paper towels and dip them into this wonderful mixture and wipe away.

Now, there is a reason for using paper napkins or paper towels instead of rags.

IT'S THE TENDENCY of the housewife to use rags for this purpose. But you will not throw away that rag when it has become so soiled, instead you will dip it into the mixture again, wring it out and just smear more dirt. A rag is not the proper thing to use for this purpose.

The reason that I suggest using paper products for this nasty job is because once the paper gets dirty, throw it away and pick up a clean piece. Paper products, including facial tissues, are mighty cheap and they do not have to be washed.

In place of kerosene, I have found that an ammonia and water solution (read directions on bottle) also is excellent for removing carbon. However, ammonia does have an odor, especially when we are working up high, near the ceiling. Also, if ammonia is made too strong, it will remove paint! Especially, if you have wooden cabinets.

AFTER THIS surface is clean and rinsed thoroughly (and to save you trouble for months to come), take your roll of inexpensive wax paer and cover the top of the shelves.

Better yet, if you put two pieces of wax paper — one on top of the other — the next time it roars with dust and carbon accumulation, you can just rip off the top piece! This will save you hours in cleaning up. (And, by the way, if you're smart, you'll keep it for fly paer because I guarantee it will stick!)

Then, and only then, replace the items you keep up there, such as turkey platters, (this is a great place for platters as they don't fit many places) the vaporizer, big pieces of china, the waffle iron, etc., and never, never place anything up there without covering it was a piece of plastic.

GARMENT BAGS are excellent for this. Mainly, because they adhere to each article, and we get them free. Then, when it comes time to use something, all you have to do is remove the covering and it's clean as a whistle. This also saves washing those articles.

If you use this method of cleaning, the next time that old, oily day comes around you can do it in one-fourth the time.

Why waste time and elbow grease?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I have a foster home for children, and our main problem is keeping the little ones from pushing their dishes off the highchair trays.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD DOAN

Lady Bird For Thanksgiving

Jacqueline Kennedy starred in a televised tour of the White House. Lady Bird Johnson will be starred in a televised tour of Washington.

Richard Doan

The ABC Television Network has disclosed that an hour-long program dealing with beautification of the nation's capital and featuring the present First Lady is being filmed and will be shown next fall.

The "target date" for the telecast, an ABC official said, is Thanksgiving Day. The idea, he conceded, is that a large at-home holiday audience would be available then.

THE TV SPECIAL will not be available for sponsorship, because of Mrs. Johnson's participation, and it is "a very expensive" production in color, according to network sources. The exact expected cost was not divulged.

John H. Secondari, executive producer of the ABC News special projects division, and his wife, Helen Jean Rogers, who turn out the "Saga of Western Man" documentaries, are in Washington producing the forthcoming show.

-:-

BEAUTIFICATION of the capital is one of Mrs. Johnson's major interests.

"She is dedicated to it," as Secondari put it.

Explaining the thrust of the program, the producer said, "It's a study on urbanistics. We'll show the condition of Washington now and how it is being changed for the better.

"From 1799 when it was laid out, Washington has had a potential for being one of the most beautiful cities in the world. Now there is this determination to make it so."

Mrs. Johnson is chairman of the Committee for a More Beautiful Capital.

Secondari said he had been at work on the TV project in Washington for six weeks already and expects to complete it in another month or so.

-:-

WHETHER the President's wife will narrate the entire program or simply appear in certain sequences has not been determined.

In 1962, when CBS filmed a tour of the White House conducted by Mrs. Kennedy, a hubbub broke out in the TV industry over the program's being authorized for a single network. As a result, at White House request, the filmed tour was made available for simultaneous showing on all three national networks.

So far there is no indication that CBS and NBC will demand the right to show the ABC programs.

ABC officials are cagey about disclosing the genesis of the project with Mrs. Johnson. Did the idea originate at the White House or with ABC? Nobody wanted to say.

"We have to be extremely careful about such things," a networker said nervously.

-:-

THE BEATLES will be on coast-to-coast weekly television beginning in the fall.

In cartooned animation, that is.

ABC-TV has signed up for 26 half hours of a King Features Syndicate show titled "The Beatles" and will run it Saturday mornings beginning in late September or early October.

It'll be in color and the Liverpudlians will be heard in each program singing four numbers. One of them will be presented as a singalong. There also will be a story line to each episode.

President Will Speak Today At Daughter's Graduation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Presidents make lots of speeches and President Johnson makes another one today. But this one's a little special: it's his daughter Luci's graduation.

Luci Baines Johnson, 17, the younger of the two Johnson girls, is graduating from the National Cathedral School for Girls, a private school in a fashionable section of town.

So it is only natural that her dad would find time to make a little speech — especially when he found time a few years back to address the Cathedral commencement when daughter Lynda, now 21, was graduated.

Luci's class, 59 strong, already has met the President, though. He made his home — the White House—available last April for the senior prom.

In the fall, Luci plans to enter the Georgetown University School of Nursing. Until then she and her sister, a history major at George Washington University, will share the White House social duties with their mother.

Lynda, for instance, will be the hostess Saturday when Princess Christina of Sweden is the guest of honor at a dance. A big d ya foruLci is June 18 when she will be hostess at a diplomatic reception.

Mrs. Johnson, meanwhile, is also branching out as a commencement speaker. This Thursday she will address the first graduation of the College of the Virgin Islands — and then stay on in the islands for a while, vacationing on a plantation at St. John's.

Pack Sets Picnic After Olympics

Cub Pack 7 of St. Aloysius Catholic Church will participate in the Olympics at Thompson Park June 9.

The Cubs are to register by 5 p. m. The families are invited to take a picnic supper and attend the monthly roundtable which will follow the contests.

The pack will observe Communion Sunday this weekend. Another family picnic has been set tentatively for June 27.

Awards were presented at a pack meeting Friday night to John Wise, Kevin Brown, Terry Ward, Scott Ward and Donald McDowell.

Kevin Brown and Mark Carr conducted the opening ceremony. Sammy Cataldo was accepted as a new member.

Asst. Fire Chief Alfred Van Dyne discussed fire prevention.

James Young gave the closing prayer. Refreshments were served. The pack participated in the Memorial Day parade Monday.

Bulgaria is bounded on the north by Rumania, on the west by Yugoslavia, on the south by Greece, on the east by the Black Sea and on the southeast by Turkey.

Firemen At Lisbon Will Buy Ambulance

LISBON — Lisbon volunteer firemen will purchase a 1963 Cadillac ambulance for $8,050 from Burgess Motor Sales of Loudenville to replace their old 1949 Buick.

This was decided Monday at a special meeting, though they are $959 short of their goal in a campaign to raise funds for the ambulance. The drive began here May 5 and was extended to Center and Elkrun townships.

The firemen hope to have the new ambulance by the latter part of the week. They pointed out any who still wish to contribute may do so.

Gun Victim Improves

SALEM — Franklin Copacia, 22, of S. Ellsworth St. was in "fairly good" condition today at Salem Central Clinic with a bullet wound of the right leg received when a pistol accidentally fired in his holster while he was picking up brush at Lake Copacia Sunday afternoon.

150 Pupils To Join Leaders In Discussion

CLEVELAND (AP) — Some 150 Glenville area school pupils will join in discussions Saturday at Cory Methodist Church with business and educational leaders on job and educational opportunities.

Sponsors of the discussions hope this will be the start of a citywide program to combat problems of school dropouts, youth unemployment and improper vocational training. Junior and senior high school pupils are taking part.

Forfeits $10 Bond

LISBON — Michael P. Prasco, 19, of 338 E. Washington St. forfeited a $10 bond Monday in Mayor Dean Stockman's court when he failed to appear for a scheduled hearing on charges of failing to stop within the assured clear distance. He was involved in a minor accident May 27 on W. Lincoln Way and was cited by Chief Leon Zahrndt.

Upswing In Business Continues In W. Va.

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia's long period of economic growth continued through April, according to the State Chamber of Commerce's monthly report of business conditions.

Of 22 business categories, the chamber reports increases in 18 over April a year ago. As expected, the largest growth was in outdoor construction work as the weather improved.

The chamber also says statistics for the first third of 1965 indicate increases in 19 of the 22 categories, compared with the same period in 1964.

The only significant losses recorded this April were in auto sales and natural gas production.

Cleanup Project Set At Boy Scout Camp

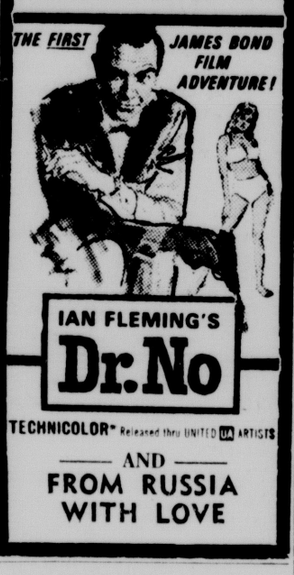

LISBON — A "good turn" weekend will be held Friday through Sunday at the Boy Scout camp at Leesville Lake to help get it ready for the summer season.

Participating will be Scout commissioners, district committee members and members-at-large and anyone else who wishes to help put the camp into shape. The camping season will begin June 20.

William Readshaw of Salem R. D. 2, chairman of the camping and activities committee, will be in charge of the project.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD DOAN

Lady Bird For Thanksgiving

Jacqueline Kennedy starred in a televised tour of the White House.

Lady Bird Johnson will be starred in a televised tour of Washington.

Richard Doan

The ABC Television Network has disclosed that an hour-long program dealing with beautification of the nation's capital and featuring the present First Lady is being filmed and will be shown next fall.

The "target date" for the telecast, an ABC official said, is Thanksgiving Day. The idea, he conceded, is that a large at-home holiday audience would be available then.

THE TV SPECIAL will not be available for sponsorship, because of Mrs. Johnson's participation, and it is "a very expensive" production in color, according to network sources. The exact expected cost was not divulged.

John H. Secondari, executive producer of the ABC News special projects division, and his wife, Helen Jean Rogers, who turn out the "Saga of Western Man" documentaries, are in Washington producing the forthcoming show.

BEAUTIFICATION of the capital is one of Mrs. Johnson's major interests.

"She is dedicated to it," as Secondari put it.

Explaining the thrust of the program, the producer said, "It's a study on urbanistics. We'll show the condition of Washington now and how it is being changed for the better.

"From 1799 when it was laid out, Washington has had a potential for being one of the most beautiful cities in the world. Now there is this determination to make it so."

Mrs. Johnson is chairman of the Committee for a More Beautiful Capital.

Secondari said he had been at work on the TV project in Washington for six weeks already and expects to complete it in another month or so.

-:-

WHETHER the President's wife will narrate the entire program or simply appear in certain sequences has not been determined.

In 1962, when CBS filmed a tour of the White House conducted by Mrs. Kennedy, a hubbub broke out in the TV industry over the program's being authorized for a single network. As a result, at White House request, the filmed tour was made available for simultaneous showing on all three national networks.

So far there is no indication that CBS and NBC will demand the right to show the ABC programs.

ABC officials are cagey about disclosing the genesis of the project with Mrs. Johnson. Did the idea originate at the White House or with ABC? Nobody wanted to say.

"We have to be extremely careful about such things," a networker said nervously.

-:-

THE BEATLES will be on coast-to-coast weekly television beginning in the fall.

In cartooned animation, that is.

ABC-TV has signed up for 26 half hours of a King Features Syndicate show titled "The Beatles" and will run it Saturday mornings beginning in late September or early October.

It'll be in color and the Liverpudlians will be heard in each program singing four numbers. One of them will be presented as a singalong. There also will be a story line to each episode.

President Will Speak Today At Daughter's Graduation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Presidents make lots of speeches and President Johnson makes another one today. But this one's a little special: it's his daughter Luci's graduation.

Luci Baines Johnson, 17, the younger of the two Johnson girls, is graduating from the National Cathedral School for Girls, a private school in a fashionable section of town.

So it is only natural that her dad would find time to make a little speech — especially when he found time a few years back to address the Cathedral commencement when daughter Lynda, now 21, was graduated.

Luci's class, 59 strong, already has met the President, though. He made his home — the White House—available last April for the senior prom.

In the fall, Luci plans to enter the Georgetown University School of Nursing. Until then she and her sister, a history major at George Washington University, will share the White House social duties with their mother.

Lynda, for instance, will be the hostess Saturday when Princess Christina of Sweden is the guest of honor at a dance. A big d ya foruLci is June 18 when she will be hostess at a diplomatic reception.

Mrs. Johnson, meanwhile, is also branching out as a commencement speaker. This Thursday she will address the first graduation of the College of the Virgin Islands — and then stay on in the islands for a while, vacationing on a plantation at St. John's.

Firemen At Lisbon Will Buy Ambulance

LISBON — Lisbon volunteer firemen will purchase a 1963 Cadillac ambulance for $8,050 from Burgess Motor Sales of Loudenville to replace their old 1949 Buick.

This was decided Monday at a special meeting, though they are $959 short of their goal in a campaign to raise funds for the ambulance. The drive began here May 5 and was extended to Center and Elkrun townships.

The firemen hope to have the new ambulance by the latter part of the week. They pointed out any who still wish to contribute may do so.

Gun Victim Improves

SALEM — Franklin Copacia, 22, of S. Ellsworth St. was in "fairly good" condition today at Salem Central Clinic with a bullet wound of the right leg received when a pistol accidentally fired in his holster while he was picking up brush at Lake Copacia Sunday afternoon.

150 Pupils To Join Leaders In Discussion

CLEVELAND (AP) — Some 150 Glenville area school pupils will join in discussions Saturday at Cory Methodist Church with business and educational leaders on job and educational opportunities.

Sponsors of the discussions hope this will be the start of a citywide program to combat problems of school dropouts, youth unemployment and improper vocational training. Junior and senior high school pupils are taking part.

Forfeits $10 Bond

LISBON — Michael P. Prasco, 19, of 338 E. Washington St. forfeited a $10 bond Monday in Mayor Dean Stockman's court when he failed to appear for a scheduled hearing on charges of failing to stop within the assured clear distance. He was involved in a minor accident May 27 on W. Lincoln Way and was cited by Chief Leon Zahrndt.

Upswing In Business Continues In W. Va.

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia's long period of economic growth continued through April, according to the State Chamber of Commerce's monthly report of business conditions.

Of 22 business categories, the chamber reports increases in 18 over April a year ago. As expected, the largest growth was in outdoor construction work as the weather improved.

The chamber also says statistics for the first third of 1965 indicate increases in 19 of the 22 categories, compared with the same period in 1964.

The only significant losses recorded this April were in auto sales and natural gas production.

Cleanup Project Set At Boy Scout Camp

LISBON — A "good turn" weekend will be held Friday through Sunday at the Boy Scout camp at Leesville Lake to help get it ready for the summer season.

Participating will be Scout commissioners, district committee members and members-at-large and anyone else who wishes to help put the camp into shape. The camping season will begin June 20.

William Readshaw of Salem R. D. 2, chairman of the camping and activities committee, will be in charge of the project.

Repairs Would Cost $24 Million

West Front Of Capitol Cracked And Crumbling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The west front of the Capitol is cracked and crumbling, Capitol architect J. George Stewart has warned Congress. He said repairs would cost about $24 million.

Stewart said the trouble is in the central portion, the oldest part of the building, built between 1794 and 1826. To get a mortar mix, he told a House Appropriations subcommittee recently, oyster and mussel shells were ground up.

"We find you can take the mortar from these joints and crumble it between your fingers," he said. "There is no cohesion at all."

WASHINGTON (AP) — S.D. Cadwallader is president of the National Right - to - Work Committee. Here to testify before a House Labor subcommittee, he said Sunday that laws banning union - shop contracts provide "the only protection that the employe has from exploitation by dictatorial union bosses and by a disinterested employer."

The House subcommittee is considering President Johnson's recommendation that Congress repeal section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Law. That's the provision that permits states to enact laws banning contracts that require all employes to be members of a union.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said Sunday his California farm labor panel has advised him not to grant any pending request for import of seasonal foreign farm laborers.

As of May 15, the panel reported, domestic seasonal farm employment in the state was up 16.1 per cent from a year ago and the number of families receiving welfare assistance in farm areas was down sharply.

Wirtz has been attempting to get California and Florida growers to drop their reliance on foreign labor, mainly from Mexico, in favor of American workers.

Repairs Would Cost $24 Million

West Front Of Capitol Cracked And Crumbling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The west front of the Capitol is cracked and crumbling, Capitol architect J. George Stewart has warned Congress. He said repairs would cost about $24 million.

Stewart said the trouble is in the central portion, the oldest part of the building, built between 1794 and 1826. To get a mortar mix, he told a House Appropriations subcommittee recently, oyster and mussel shells were ground up.

"We find you can take the mortar from these joints and crumble it between your fingers," he said. "There is no cohesion at all."

WASHINGTON (AP) — S.D. Cadwallader is president of the National Right - to - Work Committee. Here to testify before a House Labor subcommittee, he said Sunday that laws banning union - shop contracts provide "the only protection that the employe has from exploitation by dictatorial union bosses and by a disinterested employer."

The House subcommittee is considering President Johnson's recommendation that Congress repeal section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Law. That's the provision that permits states to enact laws banning contracts that require all employes to be members of a union.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said Sunday his California farm labor panel has advised him not to grant any pending request for import of seasonal foreign farm laborers.

As of May 15, the panel reported, domestic seasonal farm employment in the state was up 16.1 per cent from a year ago and the number of families receiving welfare assistance in farm areas was down sharply.

Wirtz has been attempting to get California and Florida growers to drop their reliance on foreign labor, mainly from Mexico, in favor of American workers.

West Virginia Lists 10 Dead

By The Associated Press

Ten persons died on West Virginia highways during the 78-hour Memorial Day weekend—three more than during the same period last year.

The deaths raised the state's traffic toll to 167 for the year. In addition to the highway fatalities, two youngsters drowned during the holiday period which began at 6 p. m. Friday and ended at midnight Monday.

Mrs. Lulu Haught of Terra Alta died in a hospital in Kingwood Monday from injuries received in an accident Saturday night. Mrs. Haught, in her 70s, was a passenger in a car which hit a utility pole in Terra Alta.

Coleman Friend, 26, of Gassway in Braxton County was killed Monday when the car in which he was riding crashed after going out of control on W.Va. 47 near Parkersburg.

The other weekend victims:

Richard L. Eubanks, 17, of Mount Hope, killed Sunday when a car plunged over an embankment on W.Va. 21 near Glen Jean, Fayette County. He was a junior at Mount Hope High School and held the state Class AA high school pole vault record.

Robert Franklin Cregger, 16, of Elkhorn in McDowell County, killed Sunday when a car ran off U.S. 52 at Maybeury near the McDowell-Mercer County line.

William Bowser, 49, of Cassville in Monongalia County, who died in a two - car collision on W. Va. 7 west of Morgantown Sunday.

Mrs. Ethel Lee Michael, 62, of Berkeley Springs, who died Sunday from injuries received when she was hit by a car near her home Saturday.

David Eugene Cline, 14, of Dallison, Wood County, who was struck by a car Saturday while riding his bicycle near Parkersburg. He died Sunday.

OFF THE RECORD

"Ready for the dance, Sally?"

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, June 1, the 152nd day of 1965. There are 213 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1813, American Capt. James Lawrence, mortally wounded, gave his immortal order, "Don't give up the ship." Minutes later his frigate, the "Chesapeake," was taken by the British ship "Shannon."

On this date

In 1792, Kentucky was admitted into the Union as the 15th state.

In 1796, Tennessee, the 16th state, was admitted.

In 1801, Mormon leader Brigham Young was born.

In 1941, the British announced they had withdrawn 15,000 troops from Crete.

In 1942, an armada of Royal Air Force planes bombed the German industrial city of Essen.

Ten years ago—The Wisconsin Supreme Court overturned the conviction of the "Joe Must Go Club" which had been fined by a lower court on the ground it had used funds illegally in its effort to force the recall of Republican Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

Five years ago—The Council of Ministers of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization was meeting in Washington to investigate Communist advances in Southeast Asia.

One year ago — President Johnson welcomed Premier Levi Eshkol of Israel in Washington.

Drink Workers Local, Firms Sign Contract

CLEVELAND (AP)— Brewery and Soft Drink Workers Local 35 reached agreement with four major soft drink bottling firms on a new contract Monday night, a few hours before the old contract expired.

Union officials said the new three-year contract provides increases valued at about 40 cents an hour in money and fringe benefits.

Junior Editors Quiz on VERSAILLES

QUESTION: Why did the kings of France build the palace of Versailles?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The name "Versailles" brings to mind a period when the power and glory of a country was proclaimed before the world by the glitter of its royal court. Nowadays, Versailles is a city in France. Once, it was simply a wooded area 12 miles from Paris. In the early 1600's, King Louis XIII loved to hunt there. Attracted by the fresh air and pleasant rural surroundings, he began the construction of a chateau or small country house in 1627. Louis XIV, even more in love with the area, decided on Versailles as the perfect permanent location for the royal court, removed from the bustle of Paris and yet conveniently close to it. After moving into the chateau, in 1682, Louis began to change it into a magnificient royal palace. Great galleries and courts were laid out, the finest of parks and gardens constructed. Soon Versailles was the nation's showpiece, to whose fetes and ceremonies came wealthy and highborn people from many parts of the world. The king whose picture we show, Louis XV, carried the development of Versailles still further. But the very opulence of Versailles helped to bring on the French revolution. The palace of Versailles remains today, but only as one of the most interesting and romantic museums of the world.

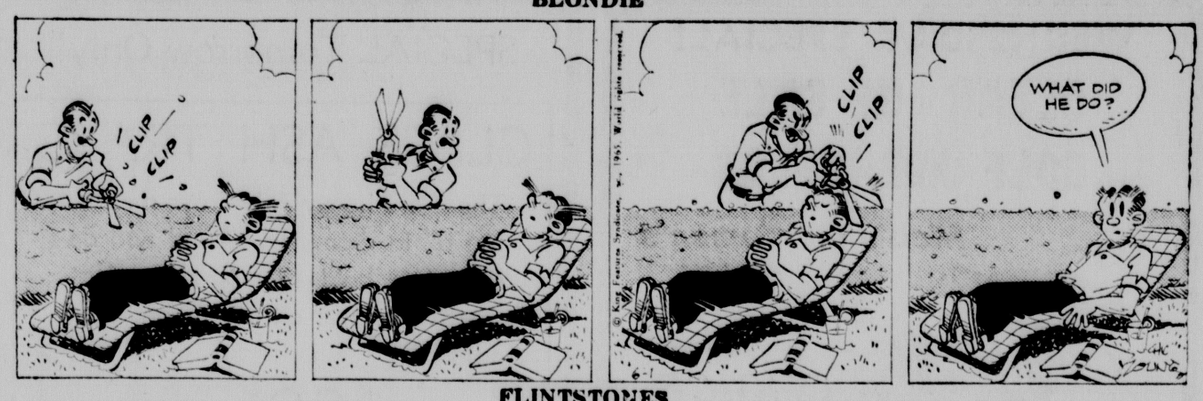

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: In 1783, an armistic between the United States and England was signed in the Palace of Versailles. In 1919, still another agreement for peace was signed there a very famous one. Do you know the name of this treaty and what nations signed it? If not, try to find out.
